No Leniency on Liquor Rule

Supreme Court Decision to be Rigorously Enforced by Treasury

San Francisco, June 11.—The Treasury will stand pat in its determination to enforce rigidly the Supreme Court decision barring liquor from territorial waters of the United States. It so ordered today in a decision which further emphasizes the government's determination to avoid any compromise with foreign governments, through which liquor has been smuggled into the United States.

The Treasury department, through its San Francisco office, has suggested to the United States Customs Service that each member of the service should be alert to the fact that no leniency should be shown to any person who attempts to smuggle liquor into the United States. The Treasury department has also suggested that the Customs Service should be alert to the fact that no leniency should be shown to any person who attempts to smuggle liquor into the United States.

Praises PlanTwelve-Hour Shifts Are Cut to EightHigher Production Now and Cost Is Less

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, June 11.—Stockholders and employees of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company have benefited since the eight-hour day was inaugurated by the company five years ago, according to a letter from its president, J. F. Welborn, made public today by the Federal Council of Churches, which has taken exception to the Iron and Steel Institute's recent report unfavorable to elimination of the twelve-hour day from the steel industry.

The letter says that the Colorado company has found that, contrary to the institute committee's report, substitution of the eight-hour for the twelve-hour day has increased production per man, has lowered cost per ton of finished product and, on the whole, has brought results that have only begun to be realized.

LETTER FROM DIRECTOR
The letter was written by Mr. Welborn to Raymond B. Fiedler, a director of the Federal Council of Churches, and was turned over to Rev. F. Ernest Johnson, director of the Federal Council's research department.

In making public the letter Mr. Johnson expressed surprise that the testimony it contained had not been obtained by the steel and iron committee for inclusion in its report.

"The immediate results from the standpoint of production per man per hour and of labor cost per unit of output were satisfactory, and where conditions have been comparable it has been evident that we have lost nothing either in producing cost or output, by reason of the change," the letter said. "At least furnaces the labor cost per ton immediately following introduction of the eight-hour shift was increased slightly over 1 per cent above former costs. At one-half furnace it increased 1 1/2 per cent, while at our rolling mills there was a substantial reduction in the labor cost per unit of output. The trend of production per man hour with unimportant exceptions has been upward since the adoption of the eight-hour shift, and in every department of our steel-making operations, from blast furnaces to the wire mill, our production per man hour is now greater than it was when all of these activities were operating on the twelve-hour shift."

COSTS ARE LOWER
"Comparing these results of the last few months with periods of similar production when basic rates were 10 per cent lower than current rates and the working time twelve hours per day, we find that almost without exception our labor cost per ton is lower than in the earlier periods."

"Whatever the question of change made in the length of the working day has come up for discussion, by officials and employees, representatives of the industry with the change has been expressed by the employees; it is obvious, therefore, that one of the chief reasons for the change was that it was practical and has been successful. A factor of added interest is the fact that with almost capacity operations at our steel plant in the last few months and employing more than 8000 men, we have experienced no shortage of labor. Our operating officials frequently have expressed the belief that this condition is due in large part to the adoption of the eight-hour shift."

WILL ENFORCE
DRY SHIP RULE

Moss, in charge of prohibition, immediately called officers of the prohibition unit together to trace down the statement but was unable to find anyone who would admit it. Moss later called the Embassy's attention to the provision of the regulations permitting entry of ships with a liquor cargo if they had left home ports prior to June 10, but explaining that such stores must be sealed.

The provision follows:
"If any foreign vessel leaves a foreign port before June 10, 1932, for an American port, having liquor aboard for beverage purposes, such liquor shall not be seized under these regulations while kept under customs seal in American territorial waters on such voyage."

MAY BE LAW SUITS
Most treasury officials tonight were inclined to the view that the difficulties will "blow over" and that thereafter general compliance by the foreign ships with the law may be expected. There were some, however, who felt that possibly legal proceedings might be attempted by some foreign shipping companies, because, they said, there was a question as to whether a foreign ship actually could be held to be in American territory.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, June 11.—Fire late tonight attacked the Capitol Building, better known all over the country as the Masonic Temple, one of the show places during the World's Fair. Twenty Masonic lodges have lodges in the building and the Eastern Star and other lodges were in session.

It is believed everybody got out safely, although the $50 or more known to have been in the building had not been accounted for at midnight. Several women fainted and were carried out.

It is believed the fire started in an elevator shaft, off in refuse being ignited by crossed electric wires. The fire was confined to the upper floors, but water and smoke did considerable damage elsewhere. Hundreds of costly uniforms owned by Masons were destroyed. The loss will exceed $100,000.

The building went into private hands about two years ago and was renamed the Capitol.

cynicism of the electoral vote by Congress in January, 1925.

SHALL CHOOSE PRESIDENT
The Constitution provides that if in that canvass it is found that none of the candidates has a majority of the electoral votes the House of Representatives immediately shall choose the President from the candidates not exceeding three, receiving the highest number of electoral votes. In making this choice the House is required to vote by States, each State delegation having one vote, and a majority of the members of the delegation.

During the election of a President by the House a quorum, the Constitution prescribes, shall be one or more members from each of two-thirds of the States and a "majority of all States shall be necessary to choose the President." Thus a quorum would be not less than thirty-two States and at least twenty-five votes would be required to elect a President.

The Vice-President would be chosen by a majority of the Senate from the two candidates receiving the highest number of electoral votes.

Now, it happens that if every member of the present House should vote for his party candidate it would not be possible for the House to elect a President. Where twenty-five votes would be needed to elect, there are only twenty-three State delegations whose majority is Republican and twenty-two State delegations whose majority is Democratic, while five delegations are each evenly divided between Republicans and Democrats. To effect an election it would be necessary for members in pivotal State delegations to repudiate their party and elect themselves from the balloting.

LINE-UP IN HOUSE

Here are the Republican, Democratic and evenly divided delegations:

Republican	Democrat	Evenly Divided
Alabama	Alabama	Marshall
California	California	Nevada
Connecticut	Connecticut	New Hampshire
Illinois	Illinois	Florida
Indiana	Indiana	Georgia
Iowa	Iowa	Louisiana
Kansas	Kansas	Mississippi
Maine	Maine	Minnesota

North Carolina	North Carolina	Wyoming
Ohio	Ohio
Oklahoma	Oklahoma
Oregon	Oregon
Rhode Island	Rhode Island
South Carolina	South Carolina
Tennessee	Tennessee
Texas	Texas
Utah	Utah
Vermont	Vermont
Virginia	Virginia
Washington	Washington
West Virginia	West Virginia
Wisconsin	Wisconsin
Wyoming	Wyoming

MUST STAND HITCHED

If only one Republican in each of the evenly divided delegations would stand about the Democratic candidate, the Democratic delegation would be elected, provided all the regular Democratic delegations stood hitched. If only one Democrat in each of the evenly divided delegations would stand about the Republican candidate, the Republican delegation would be elected, provided all the regular Republican delegations stood hitched.

If Ford were to have a chance of election by the House he would need to run in third place or better in the electoral vote. Then he would need the votes of a majority of the Congress present in each of twenty-five State delegations.

He would need the votes of Republicans or Democrats, or both, representing States he had carried, who to vote for him would have to vote against their party candidate if their candidate was in the running. Altogether, a complicated situation would be produced by projection of a fifth election into the House.

WASHINGTON NOTIFIED

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, June 11.—An official report on the overthrow of the agrarian government of Bulgaria and of the appointment by the King of the provisional government headed by Premier Zhekov, a moderate Socialist, to succeed the Stambouliksky Cabinet, was received today from the State Department by the Legation at Sofia.

The provisional government, the message said, was supported by the army, and order prevailed in the capital under martial law with regular troops policing the streets. Reports from the provinces, it was added, indicated that the coup had been successful also in large centers.

The provisional Minister has issued a manifesto, the message said, disclaiming any purpose of "interference with the deposed Cabinet. Members of former ministries held in the prison under the agrarian government awaiting trial have been released. The new government will accept the reparations agreement and continue negotiations with the Inter-Allied Commission for the Balkan States. There has been no discontinuance of administrative functions or public services, it was declared.

Official dispatches to the Bulgarian Legation here said that the new government, which prevails in Bulgaria and the new Ministry is representative of all parties, including the Socialists, but is not a coalition government. The report of mobilization having been ordered was declared untrue. The aim of the new government, it was said, was to maintain the internal peace while in foreign policy it will be guided by a logical conduct toward all the powers and toward the international treaties and by efforts to improve the relations of Bulgaria with her neighbors.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, June 11.—The act of the Colorado Legislature creating the Moffat tunnel improvement district for the construction of a railroad tunnel through the Continental Divide, was declared valid today by the Supreme Court. It had been attacked in a case brought by Mary L. Milheim and other taxpayers, who complained that it proposed to tax them for a tunnel not intended for public use, taking their property without due process of law. They alleged also that the time allowed for the presentation of protests was unreasonable, in that it deprived them of a hearing.

It is proposed to construct a railroad from Denver to Salt Lake City.

Four counties in Colorado, including that in which Denver is located, were taxed under the act to provide any deficiency in revenues which might arise out of the failure of the tunnel to pay expenses. The tunnel is for the use of railroads, vehicles, telegraph and telephone lines and water pipes.

RAILROAD DEALApproves Espee Control of Great Importance

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

ST. PAUL (Minn.) June 11.—Approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission's action in authorizing the Southern Pacific Railroad to acquire control of the Central Pacific road, was announced today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Walter H. Babson, senior judge of the court, announced that the court had "concluded the Interstate Commerce Commission had the authority to authorize and approve the control by lease and stock ownership of the Central Pacific Railroad by the Southern Pacific Company."

This conclusion, in effect, approving provisions of the Transportation Act of 1920, is declared of far-reaching importance, in that it tends to uphold the present railroad consolidation plan covered by the act.

There will be no opinion filed now, but counsel for the Department of Justice and for the Southern Pacific company, appearing in the case, will present arguments here Monday on the form the court's decree shall take. Appeal to the Supreme Court still is open to the government.

COURT HAS DECREE

The court which, in addition to Judge Sanborn, includes Judges William S. Kenyon, Fort Dodge, Iowa, and Robert S. Lewis, Denver, has before it the proposed decree of the railroad company, permitting the control under the conditions laid down by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Counsel for the railroad on Monday will move acceptance of this form for the decree, and the government will have an opportunity to suggest such amendments as it wishes or may serve notice of intention to appeal to the Supreme Court.

The court's decree will be under the mandate of the Supreme Court, issued October 17, 1922, directing the Circuit Court of Appeals to enter a final decree requiring the railroad to consider the divestment of any control of the Central Pacific Company.

The Supreme Court had held the Southern Pacific control of the Central Pacific Company to be in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act, and the government sought a decree entered carrying out the terms of this decision.

SEES NO VIOLATION

To the contention of the government that approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission's order authorizing the Southern Pacific control continued would, in effect, nullify the Sherman Antitrust law, the railroad's counsel replied that the commission's action, taken after the Supreme Court's decision, was under the Transportation Act which expressly is relieved of all provisions of the Sherman Act.

The railroad attorneys further contended that the Supreme Court never had had occasion to consider the Transportation Act in connection with the antitrust action against the roads, as the action was taken under the Sherman Act.

Action by the Interstate Commerce Commission, railroad counsel declared, was reached in the light of the Supreme Court's decision, specifically fixing its authority.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

YOUNGSTOWN (O.) June 11.—Chris Connell, who, police say, is the author of an anonymous letter threatening him if he did not cease his attentions to Miss Helena Drachmann and of a note addressed to the police directing them to the culvert where Miss Drachmann's body was found, confessed today to the killing of the girl.

Connell's confession came after several hours of questioning and after handwriting experts identified the writing of the two notes as that of Connell. He is said to have killed the girl with a pocket knife. There were eight stab wounds in her body when it was found in a culvert on a road between Hubbard and Youngstown Friday.

Connell, a Filipino, and chauffeur for a Youngstown millionaire, was arrested on suspicion Saturday. He is said to have admitted committing the crime because Miss Drachmann refused to marry him. No formal charge has been placed against Connell. He is being held in jail at Warren.

Discovery of the girl's body followed receipt by the Youngstown police of a note directing them to go to the culvert where they would find a dead person."

Miss Drachmann, 21 years of age, disappeared May 31.

Rail Station in Philadelphia Is Leveled by Fire

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—The lofty, arched glass covered train shed of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Broad-street station leveled tonight in its own ashes, the result of a spectacular fire. The tangled mass of steel and iron, above which stands the skeleton-like framework of the train shed, was leveled from the main artery of traffic.

With the general rerouting of trains, the West Philadelphia station began to function as the terminal for the Pennsylvania Railroad system, except for through trains. These stopped at the North Philadelphia station.

The main station building, housing the administration offices, the waiting-rooms and ticket booths, escaped practically unscathed. The total loss is still problematical, but officials indicate it will approximate $2,000,000.

Moscow Plans Establishment of New Air Line

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CONSTANTINOPLE, June 11.—Moscow is preparing to establish direct airplane service between Odessa, Varna and Constantinople, the entire trip taking five and one-half hours. It is doubtful, in view of the present commercial tension between Russia and Turkey, whether Ankara will permit this air line.

Considerable aviation activity is reported in Russia, and it appears the Bolsheviks are relying chiefly on airplanes to defend the Black Sea Coast. Odessa and Sebastopol are said now to have a squadron of sixty machines each, most of which are of German make. Odessa also has an air motor factory.

Wetherell came out under the classification of a paroled trusty, though it is said he is not technically paroled. He is honor bound to return July 1, next.

He is represented by Fernando Gomez Roca, Mexican counsel, at the Recognition Conference and the Pierce company's attorney.

The arrest followed a bitter court fight between Mealy and the Huasteca Petroleum Company, which has been over the title to certain oil fields in the Tampico region. It is said that Mealy has been accused of having been in the Huasteca Petroleum Company's representative of other companies from the property in the Huasteca region. Financial Row in New

Man to Restore Confidence

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, June 11.—The appointment of a dictator of the type of Will Hays in the motion-picture industry and of K. M. Landis in baseball, is being considered in some quarters of the financial district for the purpose of restoring confidence among investors of the country.

Who is back of the movement could not be learned, but the Consolidated Stock Exchange circles it was admitted there "might be something in the movement."

A committee of five is now making an investigation and will make a report on their proposals probably before the close of the week.

According to the reports in circulation, it was suggested that each prominent exchange in the street, including the New York Stock Exchange, the Consolidated Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Market, Association, appoint a committee to operate in conjunction with the dictator. No official of the stock exchange could be reached today who knew anything of the movement. A minor official pointed out that in his opinion there was nothing that the dictator could propose to do which could not be arranged by the exchange itself, either through the board of governors or the business committee, which is known as the "policy committee" of the exchange.

STATE'S INCOME EXCEEDS OUTGO
Balance Left After Expenses
Are Paid
Amount Makes Ad Valorem
Tax Unnecessary
Equalization Board Compiles
Revenue Report
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
SACRAMENTO, June 11.—The State of California's income for 1923, because of excellent business conditions within the State, will exceed its expenditures and therefore it will not be necessary to levy an ad valorem tax, according to a statement issued today by the State Board of Equalization.

The board issued its statement after compiling its estimate of revenue to be expected from all sources during the present year.
The last Legislature directed the board to raise by taxation a sum which, added to the State's other income, would produce $40,000,000 for the support of the State government for the year 1923.
The board, the statement said, finds that the amount of tax available to the State as shown by assessments just completed, will be $26,195,252.80, a deficit of $13,804, 747.20 in excess of the amount raised from the same sources for the year 1922.

Since this amount, added to the other State income, will exceed the sum directed to be raised, no ad valorem tax will be necessary,
the board announced.
The members of the board, John
C. Corbett, John Mitchell H. G.
Cattell, R. E. Collins and Controller Ray L. Riley, commenting on the results found, said:
"All classes of utilities and franchise companies represented in the State's tax sources show at least a normal increase in the amount of business during the year 1923 except express companies which show a slight decrease."

Continuing, the members of the board said:
"The best indication of the business conditions of the State generally is shown in the reports of the business corporations. These show uniformly from all parts of the State, both increased business and better results of business than that of the previous year."

PRIEST IS INDICTED

CHARGE OUTCOME OF ASSESS-MENT FRAUDULENT SIGN-ING OF PAPER
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
PUEBLO (Colo.) June 11.—Father Walter A. Grace, a Catholic priest of Denver, was indicted by a Federal grand jury here today on a charge of fraudulently signing a paper required by the Internal Revenue laws.

Father Grace previously had been arrested in Denver in connection with a shipment of intoxicating liquor for the J. K. Mullen Home for the Aged, there.
E. H. McClelland, former probation director of Colorado, was indicted for failure to make reports properly and at the right time. Former prohibition agents
Ben F. Enslin, Charles Mat-tel, Date B. Hunt and Fred E.
Klein were indicted for making false reports to the prohibition department.
The charges against the probi-tion agents are believed to concern the use of the defendants' own automobiles and automobiles seized by the agents covering their period of service.
The case of Father Grace grew out of the disposal of bonded whisky said to have been sent to Denver for use in the Mullen home and which is asserted to have been diverted to other hands.

THREE ROADS BOOST
MAINTENANCE WAGES
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
CHICAGO, June 11.—Voluntary wage increases on three railroads were announced tonight by A. F.
Stout, vice-president of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers.

Approximately 22,000 maintenance men on the Missouri Pacific and the Illinois Central railroads are affected. As of June 1, 112,500 employees of the Illinois Central have been granted pay boosts—$5 monthly to foremen, 2 cents to 1 1/2 cents to laborers, and 1 cent an hour to helpers.
The Missouri Pacific advance involves $8000 effecting a 10 per cent increase to $10 a month, mechanics
3 cents an hour, and laborers from 1 to 2 cents an hour.

A wage dispute between the Kansas, Oklahoma and Gulf Railroad and its maintenance-of-way men has been withdrawn from the United States Railroad Labor Board, Mr. Stout said, but details of the settlement were lacking.
Hearings on wage disputes involving maintenance-of-way employees and shop laborers and about thirty carriers are scheduled to start before the labor board here tomorrow. The demands vary on the different roads and represent an aggregate of many millions. Several disputes that were to have been included in these hearings have recently been withdrawn, following settlements through negotiation.

KANSAS COURT
HIT HARD BLOW
Power of Industrial Body is Void in Wage Case
Opinion is Handed Down by Chief Justice Taft
Lawyers Regard Decision as Far Reaching

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The much-mooted Kansas Industrial Relations Court was dealt a heavy blow today when the Supreme Court of the United States, in an opinion delivered by Chief Justice Taft, declared the tribunal was without power to fix wages in the plant of the Charles Wolff Packing Company.

Chief Justice Taft declared that the act creating the Industrial Relations Court conflicted with the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution by depriving the company of its property and liberty of contract without due process of law.

While the opinion of the court dealt with a specific case, it is the view of the lawyers here who studied the decision tonight that the words of Chief Justice Taft drew the teeth of the Kansas court and render it practically impotent in the field of regulating manufacturers and workers in food, clothing and fuel industries on the ground that these are affected with the public interest.

In a resume of the case the Chief Justice stated that it "involved the validity of the Court of Industrial Relations Act of Kansas" passed in 1920.

The Charles Wolff Packing Company, the plaintiff in error, is a corporation of Kansas engaged in slaughtering hogs and cattle and preparing the meat for sale and shipment. It has $600,000 capital stock and total annual sales of $7,000,000. More than half its products are sold beyond the State.
It has 300 employees. There are many other packing-houses in Kansas of greater capacity. This is considered a small one.
In January, 1921, the president and secretary of the Meat Cutters Union filed a complaint with the Industrial Court against the packing company respecting the wages its employees were receiving. The company appeared and answered and a hearing was had. The court made findings, including one of an emergency, and ordered the company to increase wages. The company refused to comply with the order and the Industrial Court
then instituted mandamus proceedings in the Supreme Court to compel compliance.

That court appointed a commissioner to consider the record, to take additional evidence and report his conclusions. He found that the company had lost $100,000 the previous year, and that there was no sufficient evidence of an emergency, and ordered the company to increase wages. The company refused to comply with the order and the Industrial Court
then instituted mandamus proceedings in the Supreme Court to compel compliance.

"Investigation" of Russia to Big Boost for Soviets May be

[BY CARL AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]
MOSCOW, June 11.—Investigation of the extent of Russia's grain crop which, if unloaded on the world's markets, would affect prices received by American farmers, and a study of the Russian co-operatives are objects of the visit to Russia of Senator Smith W.
Brookheart of Iowa, he said today.
On his journey through the grain field between the Polish border and Moscow, he saw enough to convince him that Russia will have a good crop this year, but he expects to go to the south, visiting the wheat belt around Odessa, on his way to Constantinople.

Even though Russia probably will again become a serious factor in the world grain markets, this will not affect the American farmer's attitude toward recognition of the Russian regime, the Senator said, as the farmers of the United States would be glad if the Russian farmers prosper. Study of the operations of the Russian cooperatives, however, he believed, might show the American farmers means of gaining fair prices for their own grain in the American markets without worrying about prices to be obtained for their ex-portable surplus.

Accompanying the Senator are
Dr. George E. Rogues of Philadelphia and C. W. Lynch of Harrisburg, Pa., who is connected with the Postoffice Department and who, while on an unofficial mission, expects to report to Postmaster-General New. All are lodged in the society government's magnificent guest house.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover is understood to be interested in Senator Brookheart's trip as a special assistant from the American Relief Administration has been detailed to accompany the Senator.

Three members of the American Congress are in Russia, the others being Representatives Ross A. Collins of Mississippi and Carroll R.

Danger Seen in Delay on Plan at Phoenix

Transcontinental Line is Reported Possible

Predict Increase in Value of Property

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PHOENIX, June 11. — James S. Douglas today stated that delay in submission to the voters of the granting of a franchise for operation of a railway line along Madison street "will greatly jeopardize my efforts and will materially lessen chances for building the road now or at any other time." He added that the people of Phoenix have an opportunity to start preliminary "for what, in all probability, will develop into a transcontinental line through Phoenix to the port of Los Angeles or San Diego."

It is said that occupation of the downtown street by the Tucson, Phoenix and Tidewater Railway will enhance the value of property on that and other city thoroughfares.

At Douglas it has been denied that the proposed new road has any connection with the El Paso and Southwestern System, this coming from Walter Douglas, brother of James S. Douglas, and the Phelps Dodge Corporation, which owns the Southwestern and a large interest in the Rock Island System. He said the Southwestern probably would have a traffic agreement with the Tidewater when it shall have been completed.

Landowners are making vigorous protest against the proposed routing of the Tidewater and insist that it should use a more southerly street and share in the new Union Depot.

SEEK ROAD PAVEMENT
The Yuma Chamber of Commerce has started a campaign for paving of the main roads of Arizona, this on the basis of a $5,000,000 proposed bond issue, to be submitted at the next general election. At the last election was voted down a similar proposition for paving from Phoenix to the Colorado River near Yuma.

HUNT DECLINES BID
Gov. Hunt today sent to the State American Legion meeting at Flagstaff a telegram expressing his regret that the official business prevents his attendance, in response to an invitation from the State Commander. There had been expectation that the Governor would fire some hot shot in answer to the charge that he had discriminated against Legion members.

SHERIFF INDICTED
A Prescott Federal Court jury today indicted Sheriff George Ruffner and County Attorney Robert McKim for conspiracy in holding up the United States mails. The case is one that may conflict with the State statutes, which give the Corporation the right of a Sheriff over State lines. The Sheriff is charged with having arrested and taken away the driver of a Jerome stage line in charge of carrying passengers, thus leaving the mails unprotected and delayed in transmission.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, June 11.—A demand that Mrs. Anna McGinnis, her sister, Miss Myra Poch, Charles J. Schade and Francis E. Nea, be hanged on the gallows for the slaying of Mrs. McGinnis' husband, Michael J. McGinnis, was made today by Assistant State's Attorney Rittenhouse to a jury before Judge Hopkins in the Criminal Court.

The sisters, white-faced and visibly nervous, stared at the floor as the prosecutor continued his grim plea.

"The State expects to establish that these four defendants entered into a cold-blooded conspiracy to murder Michael J. McGinnis," he said.

"Mrs. McGinnis, although past the age of thirty, wanted to be a flatterer and receive flattery. So she got herself a shock. She gave him money that her husband had worked hard to get for her. She bobbed her hair."

"She taunted her husband, laughing at his protests. Her sister, Myra, and her brother, Charles, and proudly displayed a revolver which Nea had given her for the job."

"The men were lurking outside the house prepared to assist in the murder at a signal from the women."

Every Day Takes You Farther From This Opportunity

NO ONE living expects to see irrigated land near Los Angeles cheaper than it is today. Even now it is difficult for the person with a moderate amount of money to buy a tract of irrigated, fertile land, desirably located with regard to transportation, markets, schools and with other social and commercial advantages, that will yield a certain, sufficient income. Land answering that description is held at a high figure—especially if it is highly cultivated and planted to profitable fruit groves, orchards or grapevines. The investment is bound to involve considerable money.

That is why our irrigated vineyards in tracts of five acres or more, units of a highly developed estate within two hours' motoring distance of Los Angeles, traversed by steam and electric lines and paved boulevards, offer at their low cost and easy terms the best land investment in Southern California.

More than 3000 acres of the Fontana vineyards, irrigated by our $1,500,000 water system and planted to the choicest varieties of European table and juice grapes, have been sold. The vines planted on them and on the remaining acreage are growing older and coming nearer to commercial production every month. The vineyards offered at the present extremely low prices are going fast and will soon be off the market.

These are the last irrigated vineyards that will be sold on the Fontana Estate. Every day of delay in investigating this opportunity lessens your chances for an exceptional bargain in an irrigated land tract and a beautiful country homesite in Southern California.

BRITISH GOLFERS TAKE LEAD IN OPENING DAY'S PLAY ON TROON LINKS

HAGEN HAS POOR SCORE FOR QUALIFYING DAY

Walter Hagen and MacDohald Smith and American players over New English Golf Course

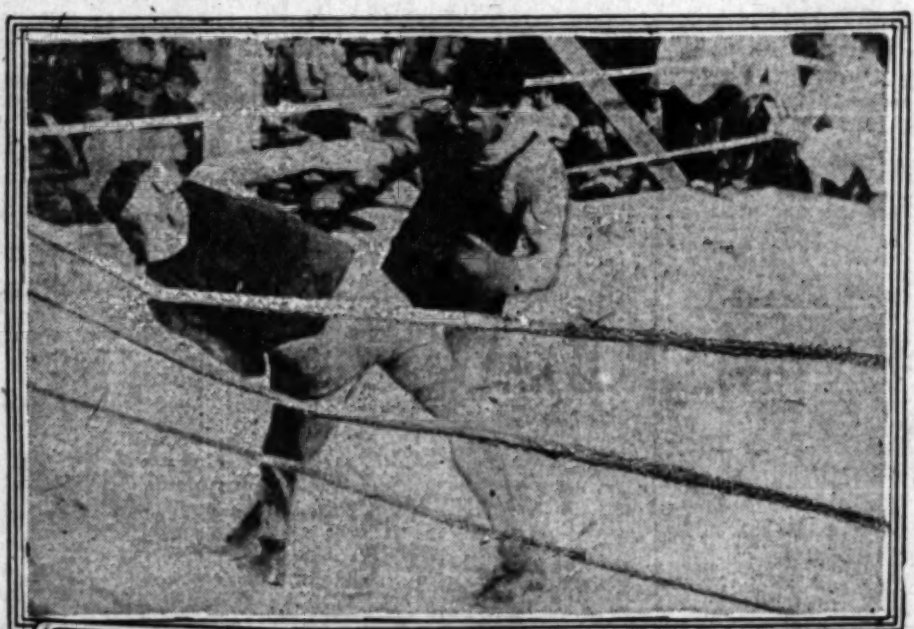

By Cable-Exclusive Dispatch
TROON, June 11.—Jimmie Baird, venerable Scotch golfer, showed the form that made him five times the winner in the British open championship today, when he led the score in the opening round of the qualifying play for the British championship.

Hagen Suffers Difficulties on Troon Links

[BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
TROON, June 11.—American competitors in the British championship have done fairly well in the first half of the qualifying test and are hopeful of passing, but if play had been in the competition proper their form would hardly have been good enough. We expect, however, to knock off a few strokes each round. The best returns were those of Sarazen and MacDohald Smith, who engaged on the municipal course and each returned a 75.

Jack Dempsey Still Treating 'Em Rough
Above is shown the champion knocking Jack Burke, one of his training partners, through the ropes during a workout at the Great Falls camp. Below is shown the main street of Shelby, Mont., or at least most of it. Prominent among the imposing structures is the Red Onion Restaurant, and farther down, the little store that has the big sign. The big fight comes off on July 4, between Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons in this little western town.

JACK SCOUTS FISHING OMEN

Jeffries' Jinx Has No Dread for Dempsey

Champion Evidently Free From Hunches

Will Work Hard Close to Day of Battle

BY HARRY NEWMAN
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
GREAT FALLS (Mont.) June 11.—We rolled into this thriving town just in time to see Jack Dempsey start off on a fishing trip. It might not be significant to announce that Mr. Dempsey has gone fishing; neither is there the slightest suggestion of any bad omen in the matter. But most of us can recall that Jim Jeffries did a awful lot of fishing while preparing for that memorable scrap he had with that black bird, Jack Johnson. Incidentally the results accruing from those fishing jaunts were not very satisfactory to Jim. Therefore, it would seem that if the champion is a hunch-player he will lay off that pretty little pastime of trying to catch the fish, especially while getting ready for that engagement with Tom Gibbons on July 4.

LOOKS GREAT

The champion surely looks great and apparently isn't worrying about that party with the St. Paul slasher on Independence Day. Dempsey told us that he never felt better in his life and that he would resume active training tomorrow. When asked how the fight with Gibbons was going to go, the champion ducked the lead carefully and told us that Great Falls was a wonderful town and that the weather here had been delightful for several weeks. The champion asked about everything except the coming fuss with Gibbons; but as he ran out of words, we tossed the question right back at him. "What about the fight with Gibbons, are you going to win and when?" was the nature of our second query.

IS GOOD MAN

"I never care to talk about my coming fight," was the fighter's rejoinder. "At any time I never care to predict the outcome of any battle. I know that Tommy Gibbons is a good man and I won't be silly to venture how the fight will go. I'll give the best I have and I know Tom will do the same. It ought to be some scrimmage. I expect to train right up to within a few days of the contest and will have no excuses to offer for lack of condition if I am beaten."

IS GREAT COPY

Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, arrayed in immaculate-colored trousers, topped off with a minister coat and a blaring pair of patent-leather pumps to boot, accompanied the boys to the train. The dapper kid looked like a riot and excited more attention at the station than Dempsey. He never leaves to worry about Kearns talking. He's great copy for the newspaper gang. Right off the reel he went to work and in less than seven minutes had fired not less than 3,000,000 words.

ANGEL BOWLERS HOLD EIGHTH ROUND OF GO

The eighth round of play in the Southern California individual bowling tournament, being staged at the Angelus Academy alleys, will be put on tonight. Six matches are scheduled, but of this half dozen, the one between Ernie Shay and Bill Phelps looks up as the main attraction. Phelps has come from nowhere up to third place in the standings and battles Shay, who for several weeks held first place.

CALIFORNIA CLUB IS MAKING IMPROVEMENTS

In postponing their annual invitational golf tournament the California Country Club is taking advantage of the time to make a few necessary improvements on their course. The course itself is one of the best in the south as far as terrain goes, but at present is a little dry in spots and with this delay a first-rate links should be turned out.

CONN TO COACH TIGER TEAM

Coach Pipal announced last night that he was lining up members of his football coaching staff for the coming year. At present only one member has definitely been decided upon. "Tuffy" Conn, former Pasadena High and Oregon Aggie football star, will aid Pipal in putting the Tiger football team on the map.

Prep Golf Bugs Play Off Finals

Although not the biggest tournament played in Southern California one of the best tournaments of the year will be played today at the California Country Club when the crack Hollywood High School team meets the Santa Monica High team. These two teams have played throughout the season without defeat, and as they have each defeated six other teams they will meet today to settle the tie.

THE FIRST AMERICAN STRAIGHT "8" MOTOR

Automotive engineers at many of the big Eastern factories are planning "straight eight" power plants for their cars. It is even predicted that within two years a majority of the builders of quality cars will have adopted this type of motor.

Fred Duesenberg tried out the car which bears his name in speedway racing over a period of years before placing a passenger car on the market. Since its appearance on the market two years ago the Duesenberg passenger car has been put to every test and has not been found wanting. Engineers admit its principle is right and its design gives a maximum of power with exceptional economy of operation.

COLIMA IN FEATURE GO AT VERNON

Bert Takes on Frank Farmer Tonight; Sailor Ritter to Meet Tom Kelly

As usual, flashy Bert Colima will be the favorite when he fights Tacoma Frank Farmer at Vernon tonight, but the odds will be trimmed closer than for any bout Colima has had this year. Farmer's big advantage in weight and his recent victory over Billy Shade have made an impression on the gentlemen who derive pleasure in predicting who'll win and whom. The "when" part of it has been completely neglected this week, as Farmer is regarded as certain to stay the limit.

Compared on the basis of the Shade bout, Colima is entitled to consideration as the probable winner. Colima almost tore Willy's cranium off with left shots in the first round and had him staggering about on his heels for the next two. Shade made a whirlwind finish, but he was so far behind that only a knockout would have won for him.

At Tacoma recently Farmer gave Shade an education in boxing, but failed to drop him any time during the encounter. Farmer was given the decision.

Matchmaker Wadhams has lined up a very business-like series of preliminary bouts. Sailor Ritter, knockout victor over Sunny Goodrich, will do his stuff against a new light heavyweight, Tom Kelly. In Kelly's last appearance at Vernon he fought a tough scrap with Steve Biss. Ted Levin, the six-cylinder bantam from the Buick agency, will meet Frankie Novey. Friends have already started sending him flowers. An old favorite, Roy Sutherland, will be seen against Joe Layman. Other bouts on the card follow:

Vernon Swoops Down on Northern Jokes and Flays Them Easily to Tune of 6 to 1

By Harry A. Williams
Seattle Swashes sloshed over into another week in the same condition as formerly prevailed, and before a small, but courageous collection of Monday fans, dropped the final game to Vernon by a count of 6 to 1.

This gave Bill Easick's blended baseball team six out of seven games for the series. Jackie May was like the weather, meaning in summer form, hits off him being as scarce as talcum powder in Darkest Africa. Victor Pigg gave Jackie a real argument for four rounds, but could not live up to the first half of his cognomen. However, the second half of it stuck and he was led to the slaughter. The Swashes seem to be in the slumgullion line, nobody knows the exact remedy.

COMES IN THIRD

First break came in the third. Two had been junked when Matt Bott sent a grounder to Sam Crane. A triple spouting like a shot from one of the forward turrets. This scored Bott with the virgin run of the game, and Hughes High then backed a single, routing Rod to the plate. Bodie forced High.

Crafts Await Signal for Ocean Clash to Bermuda
JOHNSTON WILL TRY BECKENHAM
(CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
BECKENHAM (Eng.) June 11.—The Kent lawn tennis championships, which are looked upon as the dress rehearsal for the Wimbledon tournament, opened today before a large gallery.
Most of the British stars are entered, including some of the Davis Cup players, and practically all the Americans now in England will compete. The chief attraction is William M. Johnston, No. 2 on the American ranking list, who recently captured the world's hard-court championship at St. Cloud.
Mrs. Molla Bjurestedt Malory, the American woman champion; Miss Eleanor Sears, Miss Leslie Bancroft and Miss Elizabeth Ryan are also competing.
Mrs. Malory defeated Miss Tomblin, 6-0, 6-2, and Johnston, in an exhibition match, disposed of Leighton Crawford, 6-4, 7-5.

Tomorrow morning which will send them away on the ocean race of 62 nautical miles to Bermuda. The race committee was busy today, inspecting the craft, measuring and sealing the engines. The yachtsmen have been well occupied in getting final supplies of food and water aboard and securing equipment for the off-shore cruise which will take the fastest yacht about four days to complete, it is believed.
WOMAN IN RACE
There will be one woman in the race, Mrs. M. Manning, sister of Capt. A. E. Dingle, well-known sailor and better known as an author of sea fiction, who will sail his schooner Gauntlet, formerly the Elizabeth, in the race. Capt. Dingle's home is in Bermuda and he is familiar with waters here. He has crossed the ocean single-handed, accompanied only by his dog, and he holds a master's certificate. One of his arms is slightly lame, bearing an injury he received in the Boxer rebellion. His intended mate is a round-the-world cruise starting late this summer.
A GOOD SAILOR
Mrs. Manning has accompanied her brother on voyages before, and serves her "trick" on board the yacht as she is a competent sailor and an able hand.
The starting line will be off Sarah's Lodge Buoy, between the committee boat, Ebb Tide and a stake boat flying the New Rochelle Yacht Club burgee. The New Rochelle Yacht Club is in charge of this end of the race, and the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club will handle the finish.
HORNSBY LOVE AFFAIR LANDS ON ASH HEAP
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
ST. LOUIS (Mo.) June 11.—Mrs. Sarah E. Hornsby, wife of Rogers Hornsby, star second baseman for the St. Louis Nationals, late today, filed suit for divorce in Circuit Court, charging general infidelities. The ball player entered a general denial of the charges.
In her petition Mrs. Hornsby stated that her husband was quarrelsome, refused to take her to places of amusement and was indifferent. She asks alimony in lump sum and the custody of their son, Rogers, Jr., aged 2.
Mrs. Hornsby declared that she was married to the champion batsman of the National League in Philadelphia on September 23, 1918, and separated from him in St. Louis on December 27, 1922. She came to St. Louis to file the petition from Los Angeles, where she has been living with her mother.

TILDEN PICKS FRANCE TO WIN
England Has Not Made Team Up as Yet
Spain Has Chance to Defeat Tricolor
Cochet and La Coste Form a Good Squad
(BY WILLIAM T. TILDEN.)
World's Tennis Champion 1920-21
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—The big battle is almost at hand, France vs. England or Spain in a match to earn the right to journey to America to meet the winner of the American sons in the United States for the right, in turn, to challenge the United States for the Davis Cup, the historic, emblematic trophy representing the lawn tennis championship of the world.
In this article I will take up the chances of France against both England and Spain. Since the winner will give England her best team, Cochet vs. Gomar (Spain) or Lycett (England).
Frankly I believe that France must pin all her hopes on Henri Cochet, the marvelous young star who flashed to the fore last year. If France is to win, Cochet must carry the burden of victory. Cochet is a brilliant, hard-hitting, all-court player, with daring and aggressiveness. Gomar, of Spain, is a baseline player, steady, orthodox, reliable but rather soft. If Cochet is at his best he will beat Gomar, for he has the punch that should carry him to victory.
Should Cochet be erratic and off form, then Gomar may well upset him and win. Only a few months ago at Barcelona Gomar led Cochet two sets to none and 8-3 for the match, only to fall to put over the winning punch. Lack of physical stamina cost Gomar the match then, just as it did against Pat O'Hara Wood in the Australian Open last year when Gomar lost two sets to none. I believe that Cochet will defeat Gomar on both severity of game and physical condition.
If England comes through and Cochet faces Lycett or possibly Kingscott, it will be a different story. Lycett is a round-the-world rushing net attack by one of the best volleyers in the world. Off the ground Lycett is not the equal of Cochet, but at the net he is superior. Kingscott has almost identical the same style as Cochet, an all-court player of no weakness and no great strength. Cochet is rather more severe, but is less reliable than Kingscott. I would pick Cochet at the best over either Lycett or Kingscott, but day in and day out over a long series of matches, I would favor the Englishman.
Borotra or La Coste vs. Flaqueur (Spain) or Wheatley or Gilbert
The number two singles gives France a distinct edge. Either Borotra, La Coste or even Jean Samazeilh, of France, appear to be better than Flaqueur of Spain, or Wheatley or Gilbert of England. Should England succeed in persuading Colonel Kingscott to play (and I always write with that possibility in mind, for Kingscott is the best player in England today) then undoubtedly England, if she had come through, would be in a powerful position.
The matches, when No. 1 singles plays No. 2, should always result in a win for the No. 1 man, unless as before mentioned England has both Kingscott and Lycett, between whom there is little to choose. Cochet will beat either Wheatley or Gilbert of England, or Flaqueur of Spain, while Gomar should win from Borotra or La Coste or Gilbert or Wheatley. This would bring the match down to the doubles, the decision resting on the meeting of the pairs.
Cochet and La Coste or Cochet and Borotra are regarded in France as outstanding. Frankly, I do not see it that way, although they are good. Gomar and Flaqueur are only a fair team, not in the class with the Alonso brothers (now in America) or the team of last year for Spain (Manuel Alonso and Gomar). Lycett and Kingscott together would win from either, but Lycett with Wheatley or Gilbert will not be so strong. Lycett is a great doubles player and may turn the scale of battle no matter with whom he is paired.
In summing up, I say if France meets Spain, France wins three matches to two, with Cochet carrying her to victory. If England is France's opponent, and both Lycett and Kingscott play, England wins. England without Kingscott has a fighting chance, but that is all. I favor France as winner of the European zone.
ARIZONA RIFLEMEN GATHER FOR SHOOT
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PHOENIX (Ariz.) June 11.—Teams from the National Guard 188th Infantry regiment are in camp on the rifle range, six miles east of Phoenix, for the preliminary try-outs, preceding the final determination at Fort Huachuca of the team that shall represent Arizona in the national tournament at Camp Perry, O. Representatives are here of companies at Tucson, Casa Grande and Phoenix. In previous years the Arizonans were among the leaders at Camp Perry and Adj.-Gen. Harris expresses the opinion that the team this year will be found within the leading ten numbers.
COMPTON FIGHTERS GET RETURN MATCH
Johnny Conley, who was defeated last week, will get a return match with Paul Duarte on Thursday night at Compton. Conley, although he lost the decision last week feels confident that he can trim Duarte. Hence the return match.
Another battle royal has been arranged and as these events always draw well a large crowd is expected. Other events on the bill are Harry La Roy meets Johnny Keiso at 130 pounds, Jerry Hickey fights Young Ham Patterson, and Ted Frenchis meets Jack Lewis.

INCREASE YOUR VITALITY
Eight Hours' Sleep Every Twenty-four Hours Is Nature's Requirement, Says Barclay L. Sevens
Article XII
BY BARCLAY L. SEVENS
Do not follow the example of Edison and other persons that get along on a few hours' sleep. Some persons are born with almost cast-iron constitutions which will stand much abuse for many years, but nature, most of us believe, has intended you to sleep eight hours in every twenty-four. Before the growth has been fully attained, nine or more hours of sleep is needed, as determined by the age. After the powers of the body have reached their maturity, eight hours of sleep is necessary and beyond that more again. But it has been satisfactorily proven that more than eight hours of continuous sleep weakens the vitality. So when more than eight hours of sleep is needed it should be taken on the "installment plan."
Old persons should sleep an hour in the daytime and eight hours at night. It would not be a bad plan for everyone that could do so to take a nap in the afternoon for half an hour. Sleep before a meal repairs the nerves; sleep after a meal repairs the vital organs. Activity after meals has a tendency to keep the system reduced; sleep after a meal tends to increase this weight.
EVENING MEALS
Do not take the advice of anyone that tells you to eat your heaviest meal in the evening. After a very extensive study I have become fully convinced that it is best to eat light suppers if you would make a good old man or woman. The quantity eaten need not necessarily be small, but it should be of the kind that digests quickly.
DON'T "FILL UP"
If you eat all the food that you can "hold," you exhaust the reserve forces in the nervous system in trying to assimilate that food, or in trying to see how little you can get along on, but I do know it is best to eat less and feel good, than to eat more and feel bad. The law of reserve force is one of the great secrets of personal power.
RHEUMATISM
Rheumatic pains are nature's warning that you are eating or drinking chemical elements that are foreign to the needs of the body. If you eat foods that contain elements that are foreign to the body and you cannot drive them out of the body, they will stay to torment you.
RULE YOURSELF
Don't eat things that your judgment tells you should not be eaten, and that you know by experience are hurtful. Be stronger than your physical cravings. Do not give way to any temptation and you will soon find that the inclination to yield will vanish. The real healthy man is always able to rule himself. The greatest triumph is the victory over self.
EAT TO RESTORE VITALITY
Much of the food that most people eat uses up most of the vitality derived from it in order to digest it. They therefore have the burden of digesting it with very little benefit gained. If you want to have plenty of vitality you must eat foods that digest readily. Foods that require a long time to cause much hard work for the system, even if they do not cause distress, there any sense of spending 75 per cent of your energy to digest food that does but little good and that requires most of your vitality to dispose of it? Isn't it better to eat foods that will digest easily and that will actually furnish you with energy instead of taking it? When there is a great deal of work required to handle your food your mind suffers a loss of power. All your faculties deteriorate and you are not then useful as you should be.
"ETERNAL VIGILANCE"
"Eternal Vigilance" is the price of perfect health and longevity. Use products as near like those that come from nature as possible. Avoid package goods, food mixtures, hash and sausage. Demand straight goods, cooked in the most scientific way.
An individual that tries to counterfeit United States money is soon locked up; but a man that adulterates and sells imitation foods is seldom punished.
WHOLE WHEAT
Whole wheat is the staple food when it is scientifically made. The only part that should not be used is the indigestible bran husk, which should be discarded. The body-building contents of the outer layers should be combined with the starch of the center. We then have the greatest food in the world, as it contains all the elements required by the human body in just the correct proportions. When man first came to earth, wheat was waiting for him; wheat has always been and always will be the very best food for man; it contains the exact building material for every part of the body—muscle, brain, flesh, nerve, bone and all. But today only the starch is generally used and it is bleached and often mixed with alum.

bush and had to pick out and go back and drive over again. I was out of the house but on the side, and after getting into a bunker took six to the green so that I required eight to hole out.
Mitchell was out thirty-five. He also lost a ball on the second tee. At the eleventh hole the ball struck a roller at the side of the fairway and bouncing high into the air was not seen again. Duncan played steadily but found trouble with the greens taking three putts too often. Tolley at one time promised to return a good score being an average of one over four, for eleven holes but finished weakly for a round of seventy-eight.
Barnes also fell off on the home-ward half which was against the wind. He was out in thirty-seven but required forty-three for the last nine. He had only one really bad hole; that was the twelfth where he got in the rough and his ball lay so bad that he could scarcely see it. Where he failed was on the greens.

Los Pastores Visperan al Defensor de Oaks

Una delegación de ministros que visitó ayer al Alcalde Cryer

hizo cargo verbal al Capitán de Policía Clyde L. Plummer de haber usado lenguaje inconveniente al hacer la defensa del departamento de policía, en el mitin celebrado el domingo en la Iglesia de la Trinidad. Los dos ministros delegados y el comité que los acompañaba acusaron al Capitán Plummer de haber llamado "semi-inteligente" al auditorio del mitin referido, y de haber observado una conducta impropia de un funcionario. Tuvieron una larga sesión con el alcalde en la ante-sala de éste, y le entregaron la iniciativa aprobada el domingo, revelándole pormenorizadamente cuáles eran algunas de sus objeciones contra el Jefe Oaks. Firmaban dicha iniciativa 708 personas, y el Alcalde Cryer la aceptó, diciendo que sería tomada en consideración celosa e inmediatamente.

Ningunos comentarios hizo el Alcalde acerca de su actitud en lo tocante a los cargos verbales lanzados contra el Capitán Plummer, que no se hallaba presente. Además de haber oído a los Reverendos Gustav A. Bregleb y R. B. Shuler, que encabezaban la delegación, escuchó el Alcalde a buen número de las señoras y caballeros cuyas firmas calzaban la iniciativa.

Después de ellos habló, en ausencia del Jefe Oaks, el Jefe Ayudante Richard H. Hill, quien hizo una vigorosa defensa de su superior y del departamento de policía. Negó que se encontrara la ciudad en grave situación, ni en las angustias acarreadas por alarmante oleada de crimen, y afirmó que en el último año ha aumentado en un 75 por ciento la moralidad del departamento de policía. Tales fueron los puntos de vista de la declaración que hiciera el Jefe Ayudante Hill ante la delegación de gente de iglesia.

DEPORTES

Boxeo

El marino Ashmore y Phil Salvadore se liarán a los golpes la noche del viernes próximo en el tablado de la Legión Americana en Hollywood, siendo su número el diez del programa. Dos veces se han encontrado estos pesiceros, y cada uno tiene una decisión a su favor.

Como siempre, será el brillante Bert Collins el favorito esta noche en Vernon, cuando le haga frente a Frank Farmer, de Tacoma; pero sus probabilidades de salir airoso son más escasas que con ningún otro de los adversarios que Collins ha tenido este año. Farmer tiene una gran ventaja en peso, y su reciente victoria sobre Billy Shadle le ha dado prestigio entre los apostadores.

Golf

TROON (Escocia) junio 11.—James Baird, varano jugador británico de golf, iba a la cabeza del campo al terminar el juego del día, habiendo hecho los primeros dieciocho agujeros en 72 golpes.

Más de 200 jugadores tiraron en la primera mitad de la tanda caudaliva del campeonato británico de golf libre. Disfrutaron los jugadores de brillante buen tiempo.

A Blessing Born in the Agony of War

THE world is just recovering from the greatest war in history. During that war millions of men perished and billions of dollars worth of property was utterly destroyed. These are staggering losses. Were there any gains? It must be remembered that from 1914 to 1918 the world was concentrated in an effort to find weapons and methods for the destruction of human life. More efficient production of the things that gave men the power to kill was the chief aim of civilization locked in a death struggle.

Opposed to this gigantic effort to destroy, however, was a comparatively small body of men and women whose every thought and act was devoted to the preservation of human life. Surgeons, physicians and nurses were the soldiers that the science of medicine called to the colors. They went forward into battle not to kill but to save, and in the greatest clinic the world has ever known, they learned new methods of surgery and healing that will be of incalculable benefit to mankind.

By far the greatest contribution to healing which came as a result of the war was a new antiseptic which completely revolutionized surgical methods in the allied hospitals almost overnight. What this antiseptic meant to humanity is indicated by extracts from a few of the periodicals the world over that hailed its discovery as the medical achievement of a century.

From the Literary Digest

"Countless lives have been saved, amputations have been avoided, wounds have been healed in a half or even a third of the time ordinarily required by the use of the new Carrel-Dakin treatment of infected wounds. It is, therefore, gratifying to know that the inventors of this new technique are coming to this country to make it available here and to teach it to American surgeons. Dr. Alexis Carrel won fame in the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research in New York before he entered the French Service, and his return on special furlough to set up a hospital in the grounds of and under the auspices of the Institute is especially appropriate. According to an article in La Nature (Paris), the Carrel-Dakin method has been spoken of as the greatest surgical discovery since the days of Lister. The basic idea seems to be that as practically all wounds in war became at least slightly infected, the most important thing is to destroy the infection by antiseptics rather than merely to keep out infection by antiseptic treatments."

From the New York Sun

"The great success of Drs. Carrel and Dakin, especially the advances made in the treatment of deeply-wounded legs and arms which formerly were invariably amputated, but now are saved by the new treatment, is widely known among laymen. Deep wounds meant infection that the surgeon formerly could not get at to cleanse; therefore, the leg had to come off. Dr. Carrel perfected a method of treatment whereby he inserted into the wound a solution of hypochlorite that acted as a thorough disinfectant, and yet avoided the caustic effects of the chlorine. The chemical properties of the solution simultaneously kill bacteria, and have a solvent effect upon dead tissue, thus minimizing the opportunities for progressive infection."

The above quotations are from articles describing the Carrel-Dakin solution, the antiseptic, that drove infection from the war hospitals of France, saved hundreds of thousands of desperately wounded men and is now in daily use in hospitals throughout the civilized world.

In hospitals! Then why not in homes as well? Why has this greatest asset of the war been restricted to hospital use? Let us explain.

In the days preceding the war, the medical profession had only two kinds of antiseptic: powerful, highly poisonous compounds that could not be applied freely and without danger to the human body, and so-called mild antiseptics that were practically valueless. It is a fact, which every physician knows, that although malignant bacteria are the cause of almost all suffering and disease, war surgery had nothing five years ago which afforded real protection against its ever-present and most dangerous foe.

And Then Came War

And then came the greatest of all wars and the horrible infection produced by modern gunfire, set the world at work night and day to find something that would check it. Something that would really destroy germs and could be applied with safety to the human body. The result was Dakin's Solution. Thousands suffered, thousands died, that this antiseptic might be born. It conquered infection in the war hospitals. It is the wonder of modern surgery, but when it was first given to the world the work was only half completed; for Dakin's Solution was unstable—it would not "keep." It had to be freshly made by experts every day; and the great mass of humanity was denied its protection.

So chemists got to work! They worked earnestly

From the New York Times

"The distinctive feature of this Carrel-Dakin treatment, which is one of the most notable surgical developments of the war, is the use of a solution of hypochlorite under conditions which utilize the disinfecting properties of the chlorine and avoid its caustic effects. This chemical compound has the unique property of killing the bacteria and exerting a solvent effect upon dead tissue, thus reducing in the wound the opportunity for bacteria to develop."

From the Review of Reviews

"It is admitted that in the recent war infection was more malignant than ever before. . . . The only efficient antiseptic found was that which was employed with great success by Drs. Dakin and Carrel. The evils of war were greatly lessened, and a permanent gain for humanity achieved."

From the International Journal of Surgery

"In this war, infection has played about the most important role in surgery. There has not been a great advance in the treatment of infected wounds in the last fifty years. At the beginning of the war, about 75 per cent of the amputations were performed because of infection, and not because of the purely traumatic condition of the limb—about the same percentage as was performed in other great wars. Fortunately, Dr. Carrel and Dr. Dakin, with their associates, were successful in arriving at a definite line of treatment for such infected wounds."

for several years, and they have finally succeeded. Zonite is the result. Its discovery means that humanity is at last provided with a mighty defense against dangerous bacteria. It means that a medicine shelf in the home can contain a non-poisonous antiseptic, that by standard laboratory test is more powerful than pure carbolic acid. It means that the world will benefit hugely in peaceful years to come from a blessing wrung from the agony of war.

Uses for New Antiseptic

There are so many uses for the new antiseptic—its possibilities are so enormous—that space does not permit a full discussion of them here. From colds and sore throats, to diphtheria and pneumonia, most human ailments rise from the lodgment and propagation of germs in the throat and nasal passages. At these points in the human anatomy the bacteria of contagious diseases make their initial entrance and attack. The knowledge of this was of small value in the past, because the known antiseptics powerful enough to destroy the invader would destroy the mucous membrane as well. Zonite, at proper dilutions, may be used with impunity in the nose and throat of a child as well as an adult.

Another important fact in connection with the war-born antiseptic is its prevention of fatal accidents. It is no longer necessary to risk the horrible catastrophe which bichloride tablets, carbolic acid, etc., may bring upon a household. It will be folly to keep such deadly compounds in the family medicine chest when a more effective and non-poisonous antiseptic is obtainable.

Zonite is being supplied to druggists as rapidly as possible. It is a colorless liquid that does not stain, destroys odors and leaves no odor of its own.

The ABYSMAL BRUTE

SYNOPSIS OF PREVIOUS INSTALLMENTS

In answer to a letter from Pat Glendon, a retired fighter, Ram Stubbener, promoter of ball combats, informs him that the "future champion" is Pat's son, a 22-year-old gladiator with a background of 22 years' experience in the ring. Pat lives on in advance action and a contract is signed. In this city Pat has little trouble in disposing of his opponents and Stubbener profits upon him to obtain money. Pat, however, is not so sure of himself as he seems. He is a man of many moods, and his mind is not so clear as it appears. He is a man of many moods, and his mind is not so clear as it appears.

"I'd like to ask you a favor," he said tentatively. "Maybe it's a big favor." She showed her acquiescence in her face, as if it were already granted, and he went on: "Of course, I know you won't use this faking in the interview. But I want more than that. I don't want you to publish anything at all."

Your Children Will Love Tent City

For many reasons the little tents are perfectly contented—the play from morning to bed time, and the kind of fun that makes strong, healthy youngsters.

There's swimming in the children's open air pool under watchful eyes of life guards, endless variety of games on the beach, and numerous amusement concessions, where parents, too, join in.

Do they love Tent City? We know they do, for among regular sojourners are so many grown-ups who came first with parents years ago and now rarely miss a visit each summer.

BRING THE CHILDREN

This is one ideal vacation place where youngsters are wanted and royally entertained.

HAREM GIVEN DEATH BLOW

Woman Elected to Serve on School Board at Constantinople

BY CARL—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 11.—Shades of the harem A woman now has been elected to a public office in Turkey, Melek Hounum receiving the highest vote among candidates for new members of the Constantinople school board.

The teachers have the right to elect two representatives on the board. The women, who were allowed for the first time to vote, had a majority and the men gallantly refused to nominate males. But the women were even more gallant and did not use the advantage, electing one woman and one man.

There had been so often spread over the city of Constantinople a feeling of gloom, that it was not until the election of the women that the city was lifted out of its gloom. The women, who were elected to the school board, had a majority and the men gallantly refused to nominate males. But the women were even more gallant and did not use the advantage, electing one woman and one man.

They had just come together in the center of the ring. It was an ordinary clench as any in the fight, save that Powers was struggling and roughing it every instant. Glendon whipped his left over in a crisp but easy jolt to the side of the face. It was like any of a score of similar jolts he had already delivered in the course of the fight. To his amazement he felt Powers go limp in his arms and begin sinking to the floor on sagging, spraddling legs that refused to bear his weight. He struck the floor with a thump, rolled half over on his side, and lay with closed eyes and motionless.

The referee, bending above him, was shouting the count.

At the cry of "Nine!" Powers quivered as if making a vain effort to rise.

"Ten!" and "out!" cried the referee.

He caught Glendon's hand and raised it aloft to the roaring audience in token that he was the winner.

BOY LOSES HIS LIFE IN RIVER HERE

Slips Into Pool While Playing; Efforts to Save Him Fail

The first drowning in the Los Angeles River in years took place yesterday when Alfonso Castilla, 14 years of age, of 1609 East Fourth street, lost his life at First street and that stream near the Union Pacific bridge.

The boy was playing with several companions on the verge of a small but deep pool when he slipped and fell in. As he could not swim, he sank at once. Instead of trying to aid him, his companions became panic-stricken and ran screaming for help.

A large crowd soon collected on the almost dry river bed near the verge of the pool, but no one volunteered to jump in until Frank Mariani pushed his way through the crowd and asked the boy's name.

"There's a boy drowned in there," he said.

Mariani did not stop to ask any more questions but stripped off some of his clothing and dived in. After diving several times, he found the boy's body and brought it to the surface. The crowd helped then and the boy was carried up to the Union Pacific station where Mariani and others tried first-aid treatment before the arrival of the police ambulance.

Confessing, Confater, Carr and others arrived with the ambulance and applied the pump, but were unsuccessful in reviving the boy. He was then taken to the Receiving Hospital where Dr. Dorn, after working over him for some time, pronounced him dead.

WEST HIGHWAY ASSURED

Upholds Condemnation of Land Which Has Blocked Roadway to San Francisco

The great Coast Highway between Los Angeles and San Francisco is assured today as a result of the United States supreme court upholding the county's action in condemning the land through the Malibu ranch. This strip will be the southern entrance of the estate so that they could pass through the Malibu ranch, which was bought and for many years armed guards were stationed about the gate.

HEIRS IN HARD FIGHT

Every legal means at their disposal was utilized by the Rindge heirs to defeat the county's condemnation proceedings. In 1913 Justice McCormick of the Superior Court handed down a decision in favor of the county in the condemnation proceedings, awarding the heirs $42,000 for the land taken.

The case was appealed by the heirs to the District Court of Appeals, which also sustained the county. Then it was taken successively to the State Supreme Court and the United States Supreme Court.

The decision was given by Justice Sanford, youngest member of the Supreme Court. Six members of the Los Angeles bar were in the courtroom when the decision was read, waiting to be admitted to practice before the bar of the Supreme Court. They were Harry Chamberlain, Mrs. Gertrude R. Chamberlain, Mrs. Percy V. Hamilton, Lawrence C. Cobb, Allan G. Ritter and Everett Mattoon.

Mrs. Chamberlain was congratulated after her admittance by Asst. Atty.-Gen. Mabel Willibrant, also of Los Angeles. Mrs. Chamberlain and Mrs. Willibrant are two of less than a score of women admitted to practice before this high court.

NO ONE IS RIGHT IN CHURCH ROW

Long Beach Factional Fight Thrown Out of Court

Judge Tells All Concerned to Love One Another

Ousting of Members is Held Violation of Law

"A new commandment I give unto you that ye love one another as I loved you. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples."

Quoting from the Scriptures Judge Hardy yesterday addressed a court room full of members of the Church of Christ, of Long Beach, and told them to go home and settle among themselves the internal war that split the church into two factions and wound up in court.

While this was the effect of the decision, the court pointed out that both sides had erred in waging their church war. He indicated the right course to follow and admonished them to leave their settlement with a little of the brotherly love spoken of in the Bible.

The suit was brought by Elder M. R. Rucker and others to prevent Evangelist A. E. Harper and others from holding services in the church building. The row had its inception when members of the congregation filed charges against Elders Rucker and W. W. Taylor. Among the charges was one that, being without children, Rucker is disqualified to serve as elder.

The elders responded by ousting from the church fourteen of those who had filed the charges. The Harper faction retaliated by ousting the two elders.

Judge Hardy held that the elders' action was a violation of the principles of law, the court held. Continuing the court said the ousting of the two elders by members of the congregation was also illegal, and without effect. Thus the leaders of the two factions are restored to their positions in the church and are left to settle their differences among themselves.

Preliminary to handing down his decision Judge Hardy declared that it was not the function of the court to interfere with the right of worship as guaranteed by the Constitution. It is only to secure the rights of citizens that the law interferes, he said. It appeared that such rights of citizens had been injured in the case at bar.

Commenting on the fact that the Church of Christ is a corporation, the court noted the church has no regular adopted by-laws, as required by law and suggested that this be remedied.

There was a victory for the Harper faction when the court held that the church was a corporation. C. C. Mara, one of the Harper faction, was duly elected a member of the board of trustees of the church. This gives the Harper faction a majority on the board.

"Scripture has been quoted at length during this unusual trial," Judge Hardy declared, "and so I think it will not be amiss if I quote from the thirteenth chapter of Corinthians in which Paul said, 'Charity never faileth. But whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall waste away.'"

STILL FEELING WARM

"Charity—love—is the only thing that shall endure. In sending this suit back to the church the court has in mind part of the Scripture: 'A new commandment I give unto you—that ye love one another as I loved you. Not that ye merely obey the law and do this or that, but that ye love one another.'"

After the decision of the court, members of the congregation filed into the corridor of the courthouse and began to discuss the court's ruling.

"We still got 'em beat!" one blond-haired man of short stature was declaring exultingly. He tapped the palm of one hand with the fingers of his other and continued: "All we gotta do is to keep them on the run."

He was interrupted by a tall woman with her hair pinned up. "All we have to do, brother," she said, "is to use a little brotherly love and settle this thing like the judge said. It's brotherly love that we've got to get down to, I tell you. Brotherly love!"

The little man paused, looked up at the sister, studied a moment and then hurried away.

ACROBATS AIR WOES IN COURT

Wife Accuses Husband of Administering a Beating With Lawn Mower

The ancient curse actors jocularly use, "may all your children be acrobats," belittling this profession, became so firmly fixed in the mind of Mrs. Eva Anderson that she chose to scuttle the matrimonial ship rather than return on the stage with her husband, Charles W. Anderson, in an acrobat act, it was revealed yesterday in a divorce action.

For sixteen years the Andersons teamed in the sawdust ring and before the footlights in an acrobat act, she said. Their retirement was brought about by Mrs. Anderson's failing health, she said. Anderson is now a city fireman in Los Angeles.

Additional grounds for divorce cited by Mrs. Anderson were brought about by her consulting a physician, she said. The second ground cited was that her husband administered a beating with a lawn mower.

She said one administrator of pills and curative potions advised her to see another, who conferred with her husband. The second physician, Mrs. Anderson charged, told her husband she was not ill and advised the hubby to use a bed slat on his wife.

It wouldn't have been so bad, Mrs. Anderson said, if the acrobat-freeman husband had used a pin instead of a lawn mower, she said. "Trains are now running and twenty-first street. The recital is open to the public, it was an ability to the limit—a lawn mower."

MAKES UNIQUE DIVORCE PLEA

Scolded for Weeping at Child's Grave

Mrs. Pauline C. Lawton

ACROBATS AIR WOES IN COURT

Wife Accuses Husband of Administering a Beating With Lawn Mower

WHEN Mrs. Pauline C. Lawton began to weep at her own child's funeral her husband asked her roughly: "What are you trying to do? Interrupt the funeral?" according to a divorce complaint filed yesterday against Frank H. Lawton, an employee of a local bank.

The complaint was filed by E. Marion Crawford, Mrs. Lawton's attorney. The wife avers that her husband was obsessed with the fear that she would spend too much of his money.

When their only child became ill, she declared, her husband at first refused to have a doctor on account of the expense and that he refused to let her see the child until the fire is over, when officers can be spared from the fight to bring them to Los Angeles County Jail.

A fire on the property of the Plampitt Oil Company, between the Newhall Tunnel and the town of Newhall, was checked in the hills until the fire is over, when officers can be spared from the fight to bring them to Los Angeles County Jail.

FOREST BLAZES RAGE IN COUNTY

Hundreds Fight Six Fires in Northern Section

Several Facing Charge of Starting Conflagration

Power Houses in Danger as Winds Fan Menace

Six forest fires, fanned by high winds and aided by the heat of a sweltering day, roared through the brush in the northern part of Los Angeles county last night, according to reports sent County Forester Flintham. Hundreds of men, weary from fighting the five fires of Sunday, were called out of their beds by Forester Flintham, and last night had succeeded in controlling several of the blazes.

The heavy brush of San Francisco Canyon, through which runs the Los Angeles Aqueduct, was imperiled by flames from both sides. Bouquet Canyon, next to San Francisco, was a mass of flames over almost its entire length, and indications last night were that the blaze would leap the crest of the ridge and come down on the Aqueduct.

HUNDREDS FIGHT BLAZES

Several hundred men from Palmdale, Newhall, Saugus and Castale, and workers employed by the two municipal power houses endeavored, another oil companies, under the direction of Flintham's deputies, were seeking to hold the fire in check. Forester Flintham, with reinforcements, left Los Angeles last night with provisions for an all-night battle.

The fire in Bouquet Canyon started about 2 p.m. Several arrests had been made by Flintham's men, who accuse the prisoners of having started the blaze. The names of the men are not available, as they are being held in the hills until the fire is over, when officers can be spared from the fight to bring them to Los Angeles County Jail.

FIRE IS ABANDONED

The fire in Piru Canyon, which started early Sunday, yesterday swept into Ventura county and the Santa Barbara National Forest. Due to the fire in Los Angeles county, Flintham's men abandoned the fight in Piru Canyon, leaving it to Ventura county officials and National Foresters.

Carlessness on the part of motorists is placed as the cause of the fire, according to Forester Flintham. Their campfires and recklessly thrown cigarettes, he believes, brought on the series of blazes.

First Aid Given Man Hit by Car Saves His Life

First aid applied by F. J. Van Oeting of Linwood to Jerry Hammarley, 40 years of age, of 114 1/2 North Main street, Santa Ana, saved Hammarley's life yesterday when he was struck by an automobile at the Palomar station on Compton Boulevard. An artery in Hammarley's arm was severed and he was rapidly sinking when Van Oeting appeared.

Making a tourniquet of his handkerchief and digging his thumb into the arm above the wound, Van Oeting managed to stop the blood flow. He held the blood pressure back all the way to the Receiving Hospital, accompanying Hammarley in an ambulance.

Dr. Dorn, police surgeon, dressed the wound and said Hammarley would recover. The car that struck Hammarley was driven, according to the police, by C. J. Barron of Long Beach.

RULE OF OREGON LAUDED

Gen. Trevino Describes Era of Development Prevaling in Mexico in Past Three Years

An era of development dawned in Mexico with the inauguration of President Obregon three years ago, according to Gen. Manuel Peres Trevino, the President's chief of staff, who, with his wife, is now visiting Los Angeles. Growth and activity mark all lines of industry in the southern republic, he says, but are particularly noticeable in agriculture.

"Peace was established with Obregon," declared the general, "and there is every indication that it will be a lasting one. The Mexican people now have confidence in their government and this reacts to the benefit of the entire continent."

He added that this sentiment is also shared by outsiders. "Never before have we had so many foreign visitors, particularly from the United States," he said. "These people come among us and almost invariably, so far as I am informed, go away with a good impression."

"One of the radical changes instituted by Obregon was the separation of the military and the civil branches of the government. The military are no longer the rulers in Mexico. We have an army now solely for protective purposes and to maintain the observance of the laws, which is the natural function of any country's military forces."

In regard to the Presidential election, in the fall of 1924, Gen. Trevino said that there were no indications at this time that there would be accompanied by any disturbance whatever.

"I suppose the campaign for the Presidency will open before long," he said. "But I am content that it will be a peaceful one. There is no open talk as yet of candidates, though there may be some speculation under the surface. One thing is certain, the people this time will be permitted to choose their own candidates without interference from the military."

President Obregon will not be a candidate for re-election. Under the

Mayor Told Language "Uncouth;" Plea for Police Chief's Removal to Get Consideration

Verbal charges that Police Captain Clyde I. Plummer had used undiluted language in his defense of the police department at the Trinity Church meeting Sunday were made by a delegation that called upon Mayor Cryer yesterday.

The two ministers and the committee lead by them accused Capt. Plummer of calling the audience at the meeting "semi-intelligent," and of conduct unbecoming an officer, after a long session in the Mayor's outer office at which they handed him the resolution passed Sunday and aired in detail some of their objections to Chief Oaks.

The resolution contained 30 signatures. It was accepted by Mayor Cryer who said that it would receive immediate and thorough consideration.

JOLLEY BOY PARTIALLY IDENTIFIED

Sanceri Says He was in Mob, but Authorities Do Not Hold Him

Stanford R. Jolley, youngest brother of Andrea Jolley, girl victim of an assault by several grown men, was partially identified yesterday by Frank Sanceri as one of the band of men who forged him and left him to die on Lookout Mountain on last Tuesday.

The youth, however, was released from custody when Dep. Dist. Atty. McClellan refused to issue a complaint against him on Sanceri's uncorroborated evidence.

Earlier in the day young Jolley was arrested by police officers and taken to the University Police Station and booked there on suspicion. Then Sanceri brought in and partly identified Jolley.

The two were taken before McClellan, but he refused to issue the complaint, declaring that Sanceri's incomplete identification was not sufficient.

Jolley was released after he had been held in the University Police Station every day so that he could be placed under arrest if further information against him was uncovered.

Sanceri will have his preliminary hearing in Justice Court today on a charge of assaulting the girl. At the present time he is at liberty under $500 bail.

The police were expected to check up today on reports that Jolley was being held in the University Police Station every day so that he could be placed under arrest if further information against him was uncovered.

PLUMMER DEFENDED

In his absence, friends of Capt. Plummer asserted that while in his address to the Trinity Church audience Sunday he did not use language as polished as that of the ministers, it was of the type often used in courts of justice.

"I am neither condemning nor defending the police department," Mayor Cryer asserted, in accepting the petition asking for Chief Oaks's removal. "We are here to get at the facts, and we will get them. But we will not have until after July 1."

"A fund has been appropriated," he continued, "but it is included in the budget of the next fiscal year. Just as soon as that money is available I will get at the facts."

For the first time it was learned yesterday that Mayor Cryer himself has been secretly investigating vice conditions in Los Angeles.

"I have been out at night," he told the delegation yesterday, "and climbed over roofs to peer through skylights in an endeavor to learn the truth about vice conditions in this city."

WARRANTS TRAIL RAID ON NEGROES

Widely-Known Colored Politician to Face Charge of Running Crap Game

Coming on the heels of the raid Sunday morning on a notorious gambling house, the warrants issued yesterday by Dep. Dist. Atty. Joes charging George Brown, a widely-known negro politician, Julius McAllister, R. M. Ray and J. B. Vance, all negroes, with conducting a banking and gambling game. The game which was being played, according to the investigators, operating under direction of Mr. Joes, was craps.

Brown is widely known in the negro colony. He was one of the State's principal witnesses against ex-Mayor Woodman, who was accused of receiving a bribe for protection of local negro gambling houses. McAllister was also a witness and important figure in the Woodman case.

At the same time the District Attorney's office began an investigation to lead to the negroes conducting the asserted gambling games, and, if so, to whom the money was being paid. It is said that the negro was also a witness and important figure in the Woodman case.

The warrants were signed by Justice Baird, who fixed bail at $1000 each.

NOT AFTER MOB LAW

In presenting the petition, Dr. Rhulur, who acted as spokesman, declared that the delegation had no desire to threaten the Mayor or to promote mob law in the city.

"The thing that is uppermost in our hearts," he continued, "is to see law enforcement in Los Angeles. But we know that the city is in grave danger. Conditions are such that men cannot stand them forever."

"We do not want this committee as a personal grievance against Chief Oaks," he declared, "but we all feel that he has failed to clean up the police department. We are not getting protection."

"We are not accusing Chief Oaks of graft, but we believe that he is not doing his duty. We need the vigor of the police department."

"We are not long-haired, fat men or fools, but we know what we want. Mr. Mayor, know that the town is overrun with crooks."

It was at this point that Mayor Cryer intervened.

HARDING TO HONOR MASONS

Will Present Traveling Beausant to Hollywood Body of Knights Templar August 3

California Masons will play host to approximately 100,000 people in the Hollywood Bowl, August 3, it was estimated yesterday by Knights Templar officers of Hollywood Commandery No. 86, following confirmation of the report that President Harding will appear on that date to present the Hollywood Commandery with the International Traveling Beausant on behalf of his home commandery.

Masons from all over the State are to gather for the ceremonies, according to James W. Wilson, Commander of Hollywood Masonic organization. A monster parade with two bands and thousands of Knights Templar in full regalia is planned for the occasion to precede the ceremony in Hollywood Bowl.

At 12:30 o'clock on August 3, a luncheon will be given at which the officials from all sections of the State will be present. The guests of the Hollywood Commandery. The grand officers of the Grand Commandery of the State of California are to attend.

The public ceremony will be in the Bowl at 8 p.m., and inasmuch as the President's presentation speech is expected to draw people from all over the State, it is estimated that a record-breaking crowd will throng the huge bowl.

Senator Boynton, Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of the State, will accompany James Wilson in receiving the banner. All officers will be present in full Knight Templar uniform.

The international traveling beausant is a banner symbolic of the great lodge. The original banner was carried in the crusade by the first Knights Templar. The present beausant was originated in the Priory of Canada and was started on its trip around the world when it was presented to the commandery at Buffalo. From there it went to Philadelphia, to Washington, to Marion. It is to be the property of the Hollywood Commandery until passed on.

THREE FISHERS
 Three fishermen in Delaware Bay caught twenty-one channel bass averaging eighty pounds apiece in a single day. This was one of the auspicious occasions when the biggest one didn't get away.

OUT OF THE DEPTHS
 Arkuckle was showered with roses by the children on the occasion of his public reappearance on the stage in Chicago. Only a little while ago it was bricks. There must be a little love left for a fat man, after all.

ACT OF PROVIDENCE
 A man who complained of a tough steak in a Providence restaurant had his eye knocked out with a baseball bat in the hands of the proprietor. Now he really has something to beef about. The hand of a Providence provider is heavy.

ON WITH THE DANCE
 Dance week opens June 17, but there are a lot of young folks who can't wait for it. However, it may be said that the Association of Dancing Teachers of America, which convenes the week indicated, is not strong for jazz. The members are strong for better music and modest dancing and to this extent sober citizens will wish them well.

PERILS OF POLITICS
 The assistant State fire marshal in Illinois has been sent to jail for six months for contempt of court. He refuses to answer questions in connection with the jury-fixing charges in the case against Gov. Les Small. He had much to do with the selection of the panel which tried that celebrated case. There has been so much political scandal in the Sucker State that the voters are offering prayers for the return of former Gov. Lowden with his ax and broom.

AMONG THE ALPS
 Home brewing will continue to be the leading industry of Switzerland. The people voted very heavily against a proposition for government control that threatened to impair their vested right. The Swiss are great folk for distilling their own brandies from fruit juices and will not even consent to buy their supplies from their own government. They vote as they drink. As the shades of night fall upon the Alpine villages they find the householders merrily roasting over their brew.

SAFETY FIRST
 An English town had an old-fashioned fire engine for thirty years without once having call for its use. Possibly it would not have worked in case of a fire, but there was never a chance to find out. Now the officials have substituted a complete shining motor equipment with everything up to the minute. It is predicted that the citizens will not be willing to wait another thirty years for a fire. They build well in England. No American town could go a generation without a blaze. We would have had a couple of holocausts in that time.

THE BIG CROP
 It is said that there are now 714,000 acres in California grapes. Three years ago there were but 320,000 acres in vineyards. It takes about 50,000 cars to handle the shipments East and the results are partly shown in some 25,000,000 gallons of home-made wines. The apple men are alleging that the railroads use all their cars for grapes and do not leave enough to take care of the apple crop of the Coast. It would be a fine thing if every man could have a freight car whenever he wanted it. We will get around to it some day, but it will not be under government ownership and operation.

LEAPING IN BILLIONS
 According to reasonably accurate figures compiled with much time and care the various industries of the city of Los Angeles produced goods and wares to the value of $960,000,000 during 1922. This makes us easily the ninth industrial city of America. For the present year the output will readily exceed $1,000,000,000. The assessed valuation of the town is the same amount, so that we are annually turning out as much as we are worth to the assessor. With $1,000,000,000 worth of climate and another $1,000,000,000 in scenery in the offing the old town may properly be called the $1,000,000,000 city.

BANKS FOR WOMEN
 A woman is changing her banking place. The old Lisle or hosiery bank is being neglected in this respect. For one thing there were too many "fraz" on it. Even the harsh edge of a fold of $1 bills might start a ruck. The low shoe and the short skirt also contributed to the change. Not a third of the dames who used to bear their rolls in the stockings are doing so today. They may have a roll at the knee, but it is of a different kind. The money is in the savings bank and payments are now made by check. The modern bank has its special facilities, equipment and inducements for lady depositors and the women are enthusiastically responding.

THE DIVORCE EVIL
 Divorce is a monster that past generations abhorred. But it is seen so often that the present generation is losing a sense of its frightfulness. During the first three months of the present year there was one divorce in Chicago for every three marriages. Last year there were 33,094 divorces in Chicago and 7285 divorces. There were twice as many marriage licenses issued in Chicago last year as there were ten years ago and nine times as many divorces.

Yet the number of divorces in Chicago, compared with the other large cities, is hardly exceptional. It may lead the list, but not by a wide margin.

Divorce is a growing evil in the United States. It is certain to have a decadent effect upon the past generation, unless some means are devised to make divorces less prevalent. Many theories have been advanced to check the inundation, but none has received a practical application.

There are also a multitude of theories concerning the prime cause for so many matrimonial disasters. Some blame it on the war, others to universal suffrage and still others to the greater number of married women who are engaged in some bread-winning occupation outside the home. Like all untested theories, they are interesting but inconclusive.

Justice Morschauer of the Supreme Court of New York has been called upon to decide more divorce cases probably than any other jurist in the country. In a recent interview he advocated a Federal divorce law which would prohibit absolute divorce. He said it may appear a drastic remedy; but that the divorce evil has become so widespread that only drastic action will prevent it from finally wrecking the foundations of modern society.

Justice Morschauer took occasion in his interview to correct what he believes to be some popular errors concerning the cause for increase in the number of divorces.

"It is not a case of too much jazz," he said. "The rising generation is no different from its predecessor. It is no more sophisticated as a generation. A good deal depends on association. You must not blame the entire generation because a few go wrong. Young people are as good as ever; they have as much self-respect and gentility."

"I cannot say what is the biggest cause of divorce," he added, "what are the biggest causes. Nobody knows. But I am sure that the entrance of women into business and industrial life is not a prime cause."

Repeatedly Justice Morschauer insisted that it is not the spread of immorality that is causing the increase in divorces. "As a whole," he said, "the morale of today is on a par with that of the past—it is better, in fact."

If we grant that an increase in immorality is not the cause of more broken marriages it would then seem that modern divorce is a habit that partakes of the nature of a fad. People get divorces because others are doing it. Some seem to think that it is a bad form to have been married but once; that one is lacking in spirit who consents to live for a long sequence of years with the same mate.

This is the kind of fad that is as dangerous to society as certain forms of radicalism. It weakens the respect and the reverence for the American home. It makes a mockery of home ties; and the children of divorced parents are likely to assume and break marriage ties with but scant consideration for the solemnity of the vows.

Divorces are becoming so prevalent and there are so many cautions possible by reason of a lack of uniformity in divorce laws among the States that the necessity for a Federal divorce law is becoming apparent.

The foundations of modern society are in the home. Let those foundations be shaken and the edifice itself may fall. It is folly to shut one's eyes to the menace when the evil has reached a stage where there is one divorce for every three marriages.

IN THE HANDS OF ITS FRIENDS

The Monroe Doctrine has lately come in for some hostile criticism, not from the point of aggression it has so effectively restrained, but from the interests of peaceful development it has so disinterestedly advanced. Those powers in Europe against whom the Monroe Doctrine was originally directed long ago accepted the inevitable and recognized it as a safe and fair instrument for stabilizing international relations.

Now from its friends in Latin America, protected through a century of progress by its powerful influence, the Monroe Doctrine has received a belated denunciation as a weapon employed by "the Colossus of the North" for keeping its Latin neighbors in the humiliating position of dependents. Organized propaganda in South America against the United States has reached the stage where the authorities at Washington have decided it is necessary to apply some antidote.

It may be because the Monroe Doctrine has succeeded so admirably in freeing the sister republics of the western world from the fear of foreign conquest that this agitation has made headway. Certain proud, bitter and nationalistic elements in those countries, now that their security has been assured, would repudiate the means that brought about this inestimable blessing. And small-bore politicians are encouraging this hostility to the Monroe Doctrine and the American foresight that it represents.

There is nothing specific in the charges brought against the Northern Colossus. There is no hint of any material act or concerted movement by the United States to impair or damage the prestige or property of one Latin republic. The grievance is entirely sentimental. The appeal is to a proud and sensitive citizenry who find a sense of obligation irksome. That the grievance is manufactured does not make it less difficult to combat.

Moreover, it is imperative that the people of the United States take adequate measures to remove this false impression. If the Latin republics understood that the Monroe Doctrine represented a mutual and cooperative agreement among all the nations of the American continent to stand together in defense of their common ideals and interests—that it was not merely an isolated resolve of the Colossus of the North to make its will paramount—the attempt to sow discord in the Western Hemisphere would die in a storm of protest.

Civilization is still in crisis—the evil thoughts that culminated in the World War like ugly bats are still propagating in the cellars and subways of narrow selfish nationalism. The open spaces of the broad, finer patriotism bred in the freer West should afford no lurking place for this offspring of the malice of darker ages. The western continent has no legitimate cause for discord or disunion. The western peoples from Canada to Terra del Fuego have been given a chance to show the world that peace with honor is assured and certain between nations whose aims are honorable and peaceful.

To prove this will be the triumph of democracy in that half of the world where alone it has been given a chance. This will be the failure of democracy if the seeds of the Old World hatred and suspicion ever take root in the new hemisphere. Behind this western democracy stands the Monroe Doctrine that made it possible. The hands of its foes 100 years ago were unable to tear the document. It ought to be safe today in the hands of its friends.

THE NEGRO POLITICIAN
 Democratic circles in the South are greatly exercised over the appointment of Walter H. Cohen, a negro politician, as Controller of Customs for New Orleans. This is the first Presidential appointment of a negro to a post of any importance since Roosevelt's day. The nomination was first rejected by the Senate and later secured through a recess appointment.

Democratic Senators and newspapers are loud in their wails, averring somewhat foolishly that the occupation of this position by one of negro blood will endanger white supremacy in the South. Of the man himself, however, we find much interesting information. It appears that he has been identified with Republican politics for twenty years and during the Roosevelt administration was Register of the Land Office. He is described as quiet and unassuming and his photograph shows a man who reveals few traces of his negro blood.

THE SKIN GAME
 Over 1,250,000 pelts were offered to buyers at the national fur sales in St. Louis at the recent opening. There were skins of about all the animals known to the average naturalist, ranging from the romping rabbit to the ponderous sea lion. There were hides that were hard to identify and there was one pelt that looked like that of a human who had been skinned at a poker game. The fur industry is largely sustained by the gentle sex. Men bear shooting from the Far North in quest of the pelts of Bruin and Reynard in order that our fair ones may have furs to shield them from the rigors of our July sun. It is a large and impressive industry with angles that reach to all the corners of the globe—if a globe can have corners. The ermine, the silver fox and the mole must lose their hides in order that our beautiful dames may protect or adorn their own hides. Even the pelt of the pungent and pulsant polecat is so treated as to achieve a welcome in my lady's boudoir. At the St. Louis auctions the government offered the pelts of no less than 18,000 seals and these brought something like $575,000. The average seemed to run at about 10 per cent less than the former season's prices, but that is no sign that $1000 coats will go for $900 this year. Say what you will, the fur industry is a great skin game.

THE POWER BEHIND
 The great gathering of the Advertising Clubs of the World held in Atlantic City enlisted in the cause of the World Court. There were more than 3000 of the alert commercial propagandists on hand at the convention and if they should all concentrate on any cause or movement nothing could stop its success. If the advertising experts of America ever unite in one mass drive they could make the Einstein theory familiar in every home in the world.

TWO MINUTES OF OPTIMISM

BY HERMAN J. STICH

He Was a Scrub

A ten-ton monument is being erected on the campus of the Northwestern University to a graduate who was killed in France while saving his comrades' bodies. It was presented by the alumni association to the university, to commemorate his heroism.

A Croix de Guerre was awarded him posthumously, but that is not what prompted the monument or enshrined his memory in the hearts of thousands of students. What they remember most was that David Hanson played on the scrub football team for years without ever giving up hope of making the varsity.

No varsity is given more freely and spontaneously than that given by college students for an athletic hero. The man who makes the winning touchdown or drives out a home run in a pinch or breaks the tape in a cross-country run is even better than he that takes a city. A graduate who goes forth and in a few years makes some important contribution to scientific knowledge or builds a big bridge is given admiration, but he who does things during college days is the greater hero.

Yet David Hanson did not ever win a victory for his alma mater. He never played in a real game in his life. He was a scrub. And yet Northwestern alumni forgot about his B.S. and M.D. degrees. They forgot that he came from a good family. They forgot where his is. It doesn't matter. He made some important contribution to scientific knowledge or builds a big bridge is given admiration, but he who does things during college days is the greater hero.

Perhaps he got tired of being used as a human dummy for the first team. Perhaps he was bitter at times, wondering whether his chance would ever come. Perhaps he blamed the coach for favoritism, and envy rankled in his heart. But he stuck, stuck for four years of it, always doing his best and staying on the field till he was graduated.

He probably wasn't a very good football player. He doubtless didn't deserve a letter. But he tried his best and didn't give up trying after the first season of disappointment. He doesn't need a Croix de Guerre where his is. It doesn't matter. He made some important contribution to scientific knowledge or builds a big bridge is given admiration, but he who does things during college days is the greater hero.

But he left a record behind him which cannot be effaced. He was a scrub, but he wasn't content to remain one, nor did he despair when the gates seemed barred against him. He didn't build a big bridge or discover a new germ. He wasn't fated by scholarship nor exploited by the press. But back in Evanston students will work harder and live better and look higher, and embryo athletes will forever work more for more indomitable vim, because David Hanson was a good scrub.

AIN'T IT JUST SO?

Professor Dirk Beeson says he sees where Hiram Johnson claims to be all but scared to death of Harding's international peace Court plan, and so often the Expert is conquered in the end by his specialty, and old Doc Pettibone was a keen hand at trimming off appendices, but he got so he saw appendix trouble. Where it didn't really exist. And he got so you didn't dare complain to him of a pain anywhere between your gullet and your knee cap, or off came your Appendix, and Aunt Sammie Tabb was a clever hand at putting two and two together, but she got so good at it that she could see scandal where there wasn't any and you didn't dare tell her anything about anybody anywhere. Where, and so with Hiram, he has seen the country doomed to go to wreck in so many ways, so many times that the prof doubts if he scares even himself very much any more.

DEN POINTS

By the State

It isn't a bit too early to swat the fly.

The oldest survivor of the Mexican War in 1846 is dead—again.

The last offer of Germany to France has been turned down. Come again, Heine.

The grave of Pocahontas in England has been found empty. Search John Smith.

It is a hardened sinner who refuses to pay his room rent because he is troubled with insomnia.

De Valera says his activities in the future are a bit uncertain. He might come to Los Angeles and be a real-estate.

An expedition to the Arctic has been started to see if another Glacial Epoch is starting. Which is another thing to worry about.

Two negroes, a father and his son, were hanged from the same tree down in Alabama. Together in life, in death they were not divided.

The mother of eleven children has brought an action for divorce in the local courts. She ought to have not only her decree but a monument.

That rush of wind out of the East is probably caused by the Chinese bandits discussing terms. They are out of both ammunition and food.

That offer of $1,000,000 for the American merchant marine fleet has been withdrawn. The bricklayer who made the tender has other use for his money.

The barbers in Portland, Or., threaten to go on a strike for shorter hours and more pay. The barbers made the mistake of their lives when they did not become carpenters or plasterers.

The proposed confab between President Harding and the Governors on the prohibition question has been postponed until later. Such a hot subject ought to be really discussed in the fall.

Under a new British divorce law men and women stand on an equal footing when it comes to the question of a legal separation. There should be no quarrel with that proposition.

There ought to be something done to prevent the Society for the Uprooting and Extirpation of Wild Flowers from putting in so many busy Sundays. The ruthless manner in which they destroy these beauties of nature is nothing in short of a crime. There is nothing in the Federal law to stop it on the forest reserves, but the State ought to act.

THIS IS THE DAY

The first naval engagement of the American Revolution took place in the year 1775. Jeremiah O'Brien, commanding the American sloop Amity, attacked and captured the British schooner Margaretta off Machias, Me. The prisoners were marched overland to Cambridge, Mass., and delivered to Gen. Washington. Jeremiah O'Brien received the formal thanks of the Massachusetts Provincial Congress.

LOS ANGELES IN 1862

(Compiled from the "Tri-Weekly Star")

BY E. A. BRINTON

We hear considerable complaint on account of the stoppage of the water in the public canals. A great many people who live on the borders of the canals and in the vineyards are obliged to depend entirely on these canals for their water and the shutting off of the same for weeks at a time subjects the people to much inconvenience. We should suppose the water might be turned in the canals at least once or twice a week; if not in the daytime, then at night.

About a year ago or less the city debt was funded. This arranged for the sale of "economy." The salary of the Mayor has been raised from $800 to $1500. The cash fund has sunk to a low ebb and we hear that former officers will decline to be candidates at the ensuing election, as city of fices do not pay. From this we should judge that our city is "a bad fix." Who'll serve the public now?

On Friday of last week several parties visited the Arroyo Seco to look for trout. A large number of these fine fish were taken; one by N. A. Potter measuring fourteen inches in length. It seems that but few persons knew trout lived in the pools along the canyon.

On Thursday of last week a party supposed to be Mojave Indians made a descent upon and drove off a number of horses and stock from the rancho of Chico Lopez at Elizabeth Lake, first corraling the vaqueros and others in charge of the premises. Scarcely a week passes that we do not hear that horses are stolen from rancheros in different parts of the county.

The number of vessels which arrived at the port of San Pedro for the year ending December, 1921, was fifty-three steamers and forty-one sailing vessels.

On Wednesday evening Mr. William Engle of the "Snug" saloon, located in front of his place a beautiful flag staff five feet in height, which supports an elegantly painted circular sign bearing the inscription, "Billy's Snug." After the ceremony of painting the staff a handsome American flag was thrown to the breeze in the presence of a large crowd, who, after all was completed, went in to "see Billy" next door to the Bella Union on Main street.

We learn that placer gold diggings have been discovered six miles to the east of San Fernando.

Another train of twelve wagons arrived in this city Wednesday evening from Utah Territory. This train also comes here to purchase goods and it is likely will do all their trading in this city.

Persons passing the store of O. W. Childs on Friday afternoon saw it filled with a big throng of people engaged in making purchases—miners, Salt Lake, citizens and the traveling public generally. He has nearly everything desirable and his prices are reasonable.

We learn that the principal part of the lumber for inclosing the public cemetery has arrived in San Pedro and will be delivered on the ground in a day or two.

Yesterday a young man, apparently an American, attempted suicide by hanging himself to one of the trees which line the road from Alameda street to San Fernando's place. He was discovered by a couple of ladies who succeeded in getting him down in time to save his life. He was intoxicated at the time.

On Wednesday last a man was found dead near San Fernando by a couple of sporting men. He was brought to town and interred. His name is stated to be C. Marks, an American, who formerly worked in this city. It is stated a bullet wound was found in his head.

The busy bustle about town and the number of strangers yet to be seen who stop at the Bella Union and Lafayette hotels would seem to indicate that a large number of miners are yet awaiting a full preparation before leaving for the mines.

Judge Sackett is about to establish a transportation line between this city and the State Range mines. He intends to dispatch a six-horse train carrying passengers and freight from this city on the arrival of every steamer from San Francisco. The judge believes he can make the trip in eight days.

Yesterday a most singular accident happened to the little son of Mr. William H. Perry, a boy about 3 years of age. He had gone into the yard for a drink and a moment later was heard to cry. On examination a wound was found between his knee and ankle which laid bare the bone. The wound must have been made by a bullet from a gun in the hands of some reckless person on or about the hills in that vicinity. It is their duty to punish persons discharging firearms in the city limits? If not, one should be made.

Smallpox, if we may judge from reports, has been and is still committing fearful ravages among the Indians and low Mexican population. We have heard it stated that not less than fourteen cases died in one day last week.

Further gold discoveries have been made in San Francisco Canyon. It is stated that about 100 persons are at work in that vicinity. It will be recollected that some of the finest specimens ever exhibited in this place were brought in from that vicinity last winter.

We learn that a camel express is to be substituted for the pres-

Man Maintained Was Innocent

The suit of Dorothy C. Lawson, against Herbert R. Gilbert, for $200,000 damages, was dropped yesterday.

Clark's suit was the high point of a series of sensational cases made against the "Snug" saloon. The case was dropped after a hearing in which the judge found that the plaintiff had no case.

Father Fights Mother to Get Custody of Son

Richard W. Shoemaker, superintendent of the Turlock Irrigation District, began a fight yesterday before Judge Landis in Superior Court for the custody of his 8-year-old son. The suit will continue today.

Mrs. Rachel L. Shoemaker divorced him in 1922 and obtained custody of the child. Shoemaker now asserts conditions have changed since that time, and he is better able to bring up the boy and give him a good education than is Mrs. Shoemaker. Attorney W. E. Lady represents Shoemaker and Attorney D. P. Hatch Mrs. Shoemaker.

Calves Give Up Lives to Aid in Study of Eyes

Forty calves yesterday paid the penalty for having eyes more similar to the eyes of a human being than any other animal. The calves were killed in order that Dr. Frederick A. Wolf, an authority on the eye, might illustrate his lecture while 200 ophthalmologists of Southern California took part in the dissection program.

The dissection and lecture occurred at the Los Angeles School of Optometry last night. Dr. Harry Goodman, head of the academic section of the Los Angeles County Association of Optometrists, presiding.

Dr. Wolf, who is here from New York interesting the public in the matter of eye-examination and eye-hygiene with the view to having eyes of all school children examined for possible defective vision, gave the first of his lectures on dissection. The forty calves' heads were divided among groups, each group doing its own dissecting.

According to Dr. Wolf, the public is not fully aware of the advancement of the profession of optometry and ophthalmologists are beginning to see the results of the latest scientific investigations of the causes of eye ailments that the public might eventually benefit.

Tonight Dr. Wolf will have for his subject "illumination," and the series will close Wednesday night with a lecture on "Hygiene in Relation to Optometry."

EINSTEIN THEORY ON SCREEN

Film Being Shown at Metropolitan Has Plot, No Cast,
But Villain Stars Just the Same

The Einstein theory of relativity, which has caused the scientific world to hurl the dangerous word "hither and yon," has been filmed. A popular version, according to the subtitle.

And in keeping with his policy of showing better pictures—Sid Grauman is presenting the scientific sensation in films to the public this week at his Metropolitan Theater.

The picture is unusual at least. It gives film tradition the kyo in the first round. There isn't even a cast. Recklessness is displayed throughout the four reels—from the omission of a bedroom scene to the daring display of the star's picture at the end of the play.

FEW UNDERSTAND

However, the picture has its redeeming features which make one forget its originality. For instance, it is announced in the beginning that only twelve men in the world understand Mr. Einstein's theories. This group, it is assumed, does not include the defendant.

Assuming no member of the select jury is present, the popular version proceeds with McGuffey-like simplicity to the caption announcing that "space is bent." Then it is openly admitted no member of the audience can understand.

Despite the warning, however, the director has done his best. Realizing the complexity of his script he has injected some subtitles which bespeak of time and study. For instance:

"In the earth fast? Yes and no."

"Time stretches and shrinks in proportion to speed."

"Shooting at the moon."

To the layman, Prof. Einstein's theory appears to be somewhat of a combination of Newton's theory and the theory of relativity.

Supporting Miss Talmadge in the cast are Conway Tearle, Wallace Beery, Courtenay Foote, Josephine Crowell, Betty Francisco, Claire McDowell, Carmen Phillips, Mary McAllister, Andre De Beranger, Jeanne Carpenter, Howard Truesdell, Earl Schenck and Forrest Robinson.

"Purple Pride" Finished, With Norma Talmadge in Stellar Role

With the completion yesterday at the United Studios of "Purple Pride," starring Norma Talmadge, officials of the Schenck organization announce that $1,000,000 has been spent on the film, which is expected to rank among the first of the many elaborate productions of the 1935 season.

Miss Talmadge, who has worked twenty-one weeks in the production, will go on a vacation, her first since she began her current production.

Director Frank Lloyd will also take a vacation before embarking on another production. His contract with the Schenck organization is now at an end, and it is said that he will ally himself with another large organization for his next picture.

Another month will be required to finish cutting "Purple Pride," which required the taking of 645 scenes, many of them being repeated from six to thirty times.

YOU PAY, PAY, PAY

Carrying the idea of the realm of time, a minute doesn't seem long unless you are waiting for your wife to keep an engagement. Then relativity takes hold and you pay, pay, pay.

Until the last few feet of the film you gain the impression that light is the only dependable substance extant. You are shown that despite any and all obstacles light keeps up the schedule of 186,000 miles a second. Washouts, tunnel trouble and other approved alibis for delay mean nothing to light.

But, as previously hinted, the film doesn't lack the element of plot, a substantial and law-abiding citizen elsewhere, light suddenly turns villain when in the vicinity of the sun and near the end of the picture.

In brief, it detours. A planet is located in the heavens by the light emanating from it. Scientists on this planet see it and chart it accordingly. Once located on the celestial map, the day's work is considered done.

But they're all wrong, according to Prof. Einstein. The star isn't where they think it is at all. No wonder. It's two blocks north. Why? Because the light emanating from it bends in the vicinity of the sun and thereby gives us the moral of the interesting film seems to be:

"Let's quit foolin' around."

Vice-President James R. Grainger, of Goldwyn, Expected

James R. Grainger, vice-president of the Goldwyn-Cosmopolitan Distributing Corporation, and Edith Bohne, manager of exploitation, will arrive in Los Angeles tonight for a conference with Abraham Lehr, vice-president in charge of production at the Culver City studio. At the studio they will visit all the Goldwyn productions now under way, which include Marshall Neilan's "The Rensselaers," Eric Von Stroheim's "Greed," Emmett Flynn's "In the Palace of the King," "The Master of the House," "The Day of Faith," Charles Brabin's "Six Days," and George D. Baker's "The Magic Skin."

CAST FOR "SPRING MAGIC"

Agnes Ayres and Jack Holt Featured in New De Mille Picture Soon to be Started

An announcement of the complete cast for "Spring Magic," William De Mille's next production for Paramount, was made yesterday by Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president in charge of production of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

Featured in the picture are Agnes Ayres and Jack Holt, supported by Charles De Roche, Robert Agnew and Mary Astor. Others in the cast include Ethel Wales and Bertram Johns.

"Spring Magic" was adapted by Clara Beranger from Edward Knoblock's stage play, "The Faun," in which William Faversham starred for several years. De Roche has been given the role that was Faversham's. The faun is a strange being, animal-like in his actions and simplicity. He invades the home wherein resides a group of supercivilized people, representing modern society. Knowing only the elementary instincts such as love, fear and hate, he finds himself often in conflict with his surroundings.

The technical staff with Mr. De Mille for his new production includes Guy Wilky, for the last ten years chief cameraman for the director; George Hippar, assistant director; Earl Hodge, art director; and Max Parker, technical director.

Work will be begun on "Spring Magic" on the 20th inst. Costuming, and sets are now being built.

MARY AND DOUG BACK FROM TRIP

Vacation Spent at Camp in Seclusion; Both Planning Studio Work

Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford return today from their encompment "somewhere along the Pacific," where they have been spending a week's vacation with a party of friends. All communications were cut at the camp, and even studio attaches, it is said, knew nothing of its location, except that it was near Oceanside.

As soon as the stars settle down to the studio routine, Miss Pickford expects to make a definite selection of the story for her next picture. "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" is likely to be her choice, according to information from the Pickford company.

Doug probably will start on "The Thief of Bagdad" early next week when it is expected that her first picture will be finished.

Having completed the direction of the story for her next picture, title will probably be "Rosita." Earnest Lubitch, continental director, has severed connection with the Pickford company.

At present Lubitch is in Santa Barbara where he went with Mrs. Lubitch for the week-end. Upon his return he will go to New York, stopping over at the Grand Canyon for a few days. The director is expected to be in America or return to Germany.

Special Car for Newspapermen in Arizona Trip

A special car has been chartered by Principal Pictures Corporation to carry to Prescott, Ariz., Los Angeles newspaper men and feature writers.

The purpose of the trip is to see "When a Man's a Man" being produced. Sol Lesser, president of the corporation, has extended the invitation to news writers.

Among those in Prescott who will assist in entertaining the delegation is Harold Bell Wright, author of the story. Wright is assisting Director Edward F. Cline in arranging the exterior episodes of the picture.

The train will leave Friday evening and return Monday.

Chief among those in the cast of "When a Man's a Man" are John Bowers, Marguerite De La Motte, Robert Fraser and June Marjorie.

The delegation will camp near Prescott and will rise early Sunday morning and go on location. The company has been in Arizona for several weeks and another month will be required to complete the episodes.

GRAND CANYON FILM TO BE SHOWN TODAY

The film is the first taken of the canyon with a stereoscopic camera and is in charge of George E. Shelton of Oakland. It has been shown in New York and Oakland.

STUDIO FIRM EXPECTS TO SET RECORD

United Already Prepared to Take Care of Eleven Companies

With the $300,000 improvement program now nearing completion at the United Studios, arrangements are being made by M. C. Levee, president of the plant, to handle the greatest summer producing activities in the history of the studio.

Contracts already have been signed by Mr. Levee to house the producing of eleven companies this summer and negotiations with five other producers are nearly closed. This will mark a new summer record for any leading studio in the industry and is made possible through the improvements and arrangements in the big building plant which have been under way for two months.

This announcement is another definite indication that the present producing boom in Hollywood will continue through the summer, contrary to the usual July and August let-up in production evident in the past four years.

Foremost in producing activities at the United Studios this summer will be Joseph Schenck with the largest number of companies. Among the producing organizations are the Norma and Constance Talmadge companies; Maurice Tourneur, Sam De Grasse, Jack Dillon, Lynn Reynolds and John McDermott.

As soon as the new buildings and other improvements on the United lot are completed, the eleven organizations already signed, will be in full operation. Others will closely follow.

NEW DISTRIBUTING FIRM FOR PICTURES

COMPANY PLANS TO BRING ENGLISH FILM PLAYS BEFORE PUBLIC

Organization here of a new motion-picture distributing corporation, is said to be affiliated with the Hepworth Pictures, Ltd., London, virtually has been completed, according to an announcement yesterday by Capt. Paul Kimberley, O.B.E., general manager and vice-chairman of the English concern, now in this city.

The purpose of the new organization is said by Capt. Kimberley to be the introduction of purely English films plays to the American public.

This will not mean a competition with American films, the captain says. The English films are to be produced without the use of artificial sets and will be staged upon the scenes around which they are written.

The new concern will be known as the Hepworth Pictures Corporation and will be headed by Fred V. Gordon, Richard Welby, Fabian Bell and R. T. Cranfield. Capt. Kimberley also will retain an active part in the management of the Hepworth Pictures Corporation.

Twelve films are now ready for distribution in this country, it is said. One of these, "Lily of the Valley," is reported to be a film play without titles.

OSTEOPATHIC BOARD GIVING TESTS HERE

One hundred candidates for license to practice in California are being examined by the State Board of Osteopathic Examiners this week in Los Angeles. The examinations, which are being conducted at the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, 121 South Griffin avenue, are the first given by the recently organized board.

The examinations are being conducted for the first three days of the week and for the last three days the board will be the guests of honor at the annual State convention of the California Osteopathic Society, at Long Beach, beginning Thursday. The membership in the board appointed by the Governor, is president, Dr. Harry W. Forbes, Los Angeles; secretary, Dr. J. R. Daniels, Sacramento; Dr. Dain L. Tasker, Los Angeles; Dr. Norman F. Sprague, Los Angeles; Dr. W. W. Vandenburg, San Francisco. An examining committee consists of Dr. Jennie C. Spencer, Dr. Dayton Turney, Dr. R. H. Crist, Dr. L. L. Hall, all of Los Angeles; and Dr. Ernest Sisson of Oakland.

It was pointed out that the examination covers much the same ground as the medical examination. In addition, however, osteopathy is given a great deal of attention.

LANGDON STARTS NEW COMEDY FILM SERIES

Harry Langdon, vaudeville comedian, who is known to patrons of the Orpheum and Keith circuits for his skit, "Johnny's New Car," and others, will begin work this week at the Sol Lesser studio on a series of twelve two-reel comedies, to be produced with Langdon as star. The comedian has been under a long-term contract by Principal Pictures, of which Mr. Lesser is president. Al Gouling, formerly director of the Bally-Peary pictures, has been assigned to direct the new star.

Court Continues Suit by Estate of Slain Clubman

The suit of Earle Remington, slain clubman, against the Burglary Protection Company was called in J. Perry Wood's division of the Superior Court and continued until January 4. The suit is now being pressed by the estate.

The case has been tried once before but because of a technicality was thrown out. It is asserted in the complaint that the company refused to deliver the burglar alarm which he had sold here as their representative.

CONDEMNED MEN GRANTED RESPITE

DECISION ON APPEAL OF PAIR DEFERRED TWENTY DAYS BY HIGH COURT

Decision in the case of William A. Bringham and Willard Thompson, awaiting execution for the murder of Patrolman Harry Custer, was deferred yesterday by the State Supreme Court, which opened a two-day session here, for twenty days.

At the end of that time Attorney R. T. Walters, representing the condemned men, must file an answer to the State's brief, after which the appeal will be decided. The two men were indicted by the grand jury for the murder of the patrolman in December, 1921, and sentenced to death on June 2, 1925. The case was then appealed to the Supreme Court. Dep. Atty. Gen. Widney represented the State.

FLASHES
ORPHEUM WHIZZES
FANNIE BRICE AND BLOSSOM SEELEY HEADLINE
By Grace Kingsley
If you want to forget all your troubles, from unrequited love and lost money to the dirty dishes in the kitchen sink, go down to the Orpheum and revel with Blossom Seeley, Fannie Brice, Bennie Fields, and Clayton and Edwards. One understands there was some temperament behind scenes yesterday between Fannie Brice and Blossom Seeley about their respective billings, with Miss Seeley pulling her peculiarly callous line all over the place. But all the ladies had dried up their tears as the show began, and Mocha and Java had nothing for clubbiness on the acts by the time the calcium was trimmed and burning.
That face-card entertainer, Fannie Brice, continues to get over with a race by the brilliant artistry of her lightest footling, adding one new song, a Coter number that lines right up in the high class of the rest of her stuff.
Blossom Seeley and Bennie Fields have the same act as the last time they were here, called "Miss Syncopeation," except that they have some new songs, all published, though. Miss Seeley is now a blonde instead of a red-head, and she is plump. She puts over some clever talk and she still has the tobacco when it comes to the Spanish dance, which is all her own and the most fascinating thing she does. She even has the blimpie out front shimmying. Bennie Fields is growing to be more and more a favorite. His stepping, voice, patter and personality are all to the face-card. Lou Clayton and Cliff Edwards, ever from last week, bust in on the act for a lot of spontaneous fooling, which makes the show a regular insurance. The two act clown and kid, and when Blossom gets coy with Little Edwards, and he tattles out, "You can be had! You can be had!" Noise in the audience is what there isn't anything else but.
"The Tale of a Shirt" is an old tale, but most appealing, with its pathetic little laundry girl heroine waiting for the man to come back for his shirt, after a year, building airplanes, only to have them fall to earth with a thud. Erwin and Jane Connelly are still the girl and the man.
Heading the Orpheum parade are Bert and Hazel Skatelle in a nice dance offering, followed by Frank Whitman and his talkative riddle. Both score well.
Lou Clayton and Cliff Edwards continue to do their tantalizing, mesmerizing stuff, and George Oliver's jazz keeps the crowd in at the end.
Looks as though Rodolph Valentino had better come back. Somebody on the stage mentions him, and a kid in the audience enquired in a stage whisper, "Ma, who's Valentino?"
Al Johnson to Coast
There's one star who is true to his Pacific Coast, and that's Al Johnson. Back in New York he has just closed in "Bombo," his latest and greatest show. He gave out a statement yesterday, according to wire just received, that he will bring "Bombo" to Los Angeles next fall.
In the meantime the comedian is shortly to commence work with W. Griffith in the first picture he has ever undertaken.
Will Rogers' Best
Will Rogers put over his niftiest during his last performance in the Polies, before leaving for Los Angeles and picturedom. Speaking of the big parade held that day Rogers drawled:
"It was a lovely parade. And wasn't it wonderful how the street sweepers followed right after the aldermen?"
Houdini Pages Spooks
Now the spooks had better look out! Houdini is after them. Back in New York the master escapologist is planning to take a vacation, refreshing himself for the battle he expects during his spiritualistic exposure lecture tour, which will start in the fall. And just by way of girling up his armor, so to speak, he is writing a book on spiritualism, according to a letter just received from him.
"I expect," writes Houdini, "to take off a few weeks lay-off and then try to finish up my book on spiritualism. So many things are happening on the subject, however, that it is as changeable as women's fashions, and I can read nothing but the story of the man who was rushing down the street with a hat box in his hand, and being asked what was his hurry, replied that he wanted to get the hat home before the fashion changed."
While here last season Houdini delivered two highly successful lectures on "Spiritualism" and "Miraculous Mergers."
Just by way of proving to the world that he is a busy man, Houdini announces that he has, in addition to his writings, his playing two shows a day and other activities, completed a picture called "Haldane of the Secret Service."
Houdini anticipates a lively time on his spiritualistic lecture tour, inasmuch as he expects to find all comers in regard to seances. Already he has received some threatening letters from believers in the return of spirits to this world.
As regards Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Houdini says he does not consider him a faker, but the victim of fakers.
Ruth Roland Gets Offer
Any time that Ruth Roland gets tired of risking her neck in serials, she can go right on the stage. In New York, during her recent visit, she received two offers to return to her first love, the spoken drama. One offer was to play the leading role in a new play to be put on in New York in the fall, the other was to play vaudeville. However, she decided to stick to the celluloid for a while anyway, especially as she has many business interests here needing her attention.
WHALING STORY TO PLAY FOURTH WEEK
"Down to the Sea in Ships," Elmer Clifton's stirring story woven around a whaling expedition, will play a fourth week at the Mission Theater, starting Wednesday. The fourth will be the final week, for Manager Jack Root has booked an attraction to open on the 29th inst. for an indefinite run. "Down to the Sea in Ships" is playing a run of five months in New York.

One-Act Play at Hillstreet Is Headliner
An absorbing little playlet with a faithful old plantation negro as the most interesting character heads the bill at the Hillstreet Theater this week. "The Striped Man" is the title of the play, which presents Nick Copley in the sympathetic role of the negro. Harris Dickson is the author. There is not much plot to the sketch; it is just a little slice of life, with the kindest of human traits emphasized. The characters of the three principal players are well developed. Louis (Bull) Durham, Herschel Mayall, and Clarke Marshall are the other members of the cast.
Just as foolish and as full of pep as ever, Jack Osterman, comedian, who does a single named back this week repeating his former laugh-provokers, and adding an occasional new one. Jack offers "Fifteen Minutes of Something," but he might well change that to "every thing," for he presents a widely varied bill of entertainment.
Antonio and Nina De Marco, with their six musical shellas, present a speedy terpsichorean act that meets with favor. Fred Walton, and Mary Brant in "Huh," a comedy sketch that is good for several laughs; the Elfrida Wynne and Georges Simondet presentation, "A Fireside Reverie," with a number of well-sung songs featured; and Paul Gordon and Ame Niles in an opening act that verges on the popular "nut" stuff, are the other acts this week.
"A Friendly Husband," in which Lupino Lane is featured on the screen, would have made a pretty good two-reel comedy, but stretched out as it is, it proves rather hard to swallow. There is no well-thought-out plot, merely a series of incidents. These have been speeded up, however, so that there are a few times when it is easy to forget yourself and laugh.
Another chapter of "The Big Talons" leaves things looking pretty dark for the hero and heroine.
Two Feature Productions on Tally Bill
They are certainly trying to appeal to the masses, down at Tally's Broadway with two feature pictures on the bill designed for about as widely separated tastes as you could imagine. The house seems to be making something of a hit with the idea. At any rate, if you never saw Roy Stewart, you are probably a Gladys Walton fan, or vice versa, and that's what they are counting on.
Hand this King Baggot-Raymond Schrock-Gladys Walton tri-umvirate part of a palm. They don't deserve a whole one, because they have allowed a snappy, novel story in "Crossed Wires" to drop to the level of a fair vaudeville place. What starts out to be a clever treatment of the yarn about the working girl who aspires to social heights and succeeds, ends up just about the way you knew it would but hoped for once it wouldn't. Anyway, the first part of this picture can be thoroughly enjoyed. Baggot, besides directing the film, had a hand in the writing of the story. Miss Walton makes a pleasing telephone operator, and a charming debutante, once the masquerade starts.
Number two on the bill of features is "Burning Words," in which Roy Stewart is featured, and in which Harold Goodwin, Laura La Plante, and Eve Southern share the honors, more or less.
This is a story of the mounted with the main sequence hinged on the fatal officer of the law, law bringing his own brother to justice, and as is convincing as most of these pictures are. Stuart Patton directed.
"BELLA DONNA" WITH POLA NEGRI RETURNS
Once again Pola Negri shines on the screen in "Bella Donna," this time at the Alhambra Theater. Directed by George Fitzmaurice, this story of a woman whose fate cruelly threw her into the lives of several men only to wreck their happiness proves only a fair vehicle for Miss Negri's first appearance with an American company. The star is supported by Conway Tearle and Conrad Nagel, who play the roles of the lovers of the famous "Bella Donna."

Clune's Shows
Tom Meighan's "Ne'er Do Well"
Those who seek drama, comedy, thrills or action in their entertainment will find them all at Clune's this week, where Thomas Meighan in "The Ne'er Do Well," a dramatization of Rex Beach's novel, is the attraction.
The original locations of the story have been preserved in the picture version, as the entire company was transported to Panama, that the production would be realistic to the nth degree. Lila Lee as Chiquita, the Spanish senorita who defies the conventions of Panama, and marries the other man's heart; Gertrude Astor, John Milner, Gus Weinberg, Sid Smith, George O'Brien, Jules Cowles and Laurence Wheat, are the chief supporting players. A bill of short subjects accompanies the Broadway premiere of "The Ne'er Do Well."
LOYD THRILL FILM ENTERS THIRD WEEK
Harold Lloyd's seven-reel comedy, "Safety Last," opened on its third week at Miller's yesterday. "Safety Last" has been acclaimed as the greatest comedy thriller ever made. It is unusual both in construction and idea and Lloyd performs deeds of daring that would put the most hardened serial actor to shame. Mildred Davis, now Mrs. Harold Lloyd, is the leading lady, and others in the cast are Mickey Daniels, Anna Townsend, Noah Young, Westcott Clark and Bill Broderick. The reel and an animated cartoon complete the bill.
Another Unit Show Features Pantages Bill
In spite of the fact that no one knows exactly what it's all about, "The Whirl of the World," the second of the Pantages unit shows, which is providing most of the entertainment at the Seventh-and-Hill-street house this week, meets with a lot of popular approval.
Maybe this is because of the music and lyrics by William Friedlander and the book by Harlan Thompson, or maybe it's just on account of the fifty-odd members of the cast, most of whom are girls, young and fair.
At any rate, the production is a smart little revue, although it is a laugh whenever needed, and actually stops the show with a dance specialty of his in one of the thirteen scenes. They started to have a laugh whenever needed, and actually stops the show with a dance specialty of his in one of the thirteen scenes. They started to have a laugh whenever needed, and actually stops the show with a dance specialty of his in one of the thirteen scenes.

Three New One-Act Plays at Writers' Club
Three original one-act plays by screen writers, were presented in the play room of the Writers' Club last Saturday. They were "Moonlight," by Turner, "The Fort," by Elmer Price, and "Eve's Wishbone," by Edward. "Moonlight" proved to be a tragedy just a little too short to seem melodramatic. The best thing about it was the moonlight streaming in through French doors, giving that softening effect on hard lines, and making everything seem unreal and quietly beautiful. The interest hinged on physical movement rather than any development of an abstract theme as is the case with "The Fort," a fair-minded consideration of liberty (personal) has such extremely clever situations that one doesn't object at all to its being about half as "risque" as the Balzac novel. Robert, played by Vernon Steele, has some "ultra" ideas about un-conventionalities and liberty. He is not immoral, just unmoral and extraordinarily unromantic. His mother is too old fashioned to be tolerated until about the last 800 seconds, when she gives her son the shock of a lifetime. Kate Lester made this part wonderfully real. Irene Rich as Genevieve acted mostly with her eyes, her son even probably result. It is comedy, and its appeal lies chiefly in the theme of the story and subtleties of thought.
"Eve's Wishbone" is a one-act surprise play, with an interesting twist at the end. There was some excellent acting, with honors going especially to James Kyrie McCurdy, who took the part of the great motion picture director, Theodore Von Elitz played the assistant, while the "stranger from Peoria" was portrayed by James Morrison.
BURBANK OFFERING GOOD SUMMER SHOW
With Lee "Bud" Harrison in one of the funniest character parts he has portrayed for Burbank audiences in many days, "Summer Madness" proves an entertaining and cheerful as a seashore filled with a bevy of bathing beauties. The wardrobe as flashed by the chorus before bewildered audiences speaks the last word in elaborate musical comedy staging. The principals, including George Clark, Gene Darby, Grace Hutchinson, William McKee and others are given a line-up of musical specialties which they handle with cleverness.

"TIGER'S CLAW" OFFERS THE USUAL COMPLICATIONS
By Edwin Schallert
Those who like their movies straight, with all the good old hokum piled right on top where you can see it plain as day, and all the real emotions and drama buried about 150 feet under the sod, are certainly going to enjoy "The Tiger's Claw," which is showing this week at Grauman's Third-street Theater. It possesses every known device that belongs to photography in general, and nine-tenths of those which belong to oriental photoplays in particular. About the only things that are missing are papers and the chess-id and the snake charmer.
This is the story, you know, of the young civil engineer who goes somewhere east of Bux, and marries the native girl because she happens to save his life. It is the same old plot in the same old way, very nearly, with the white girl who threw him down turning up and completely upsetting the equilibrium of his exotic romance. Of course, the marriage with the native girl could never last. So she is politely shot in the last reel by Indians.
Outside of this time-worn recipe for picture-making, "The Tiger's Claw" offers some atmosphere in the way of romantic house of the story, a general, and a carnival of oriental things—which, by the way, are not the same as our home-made thug before the god of destruction, and some assorted glimpses of tigers.
I haven't seen a film in several weeks which was so negative. It didn't offer a new thrill any place along the line. Even the attacks of the tiger weren't convincing. Everything took place according to rote, and the crowning glory to my mind was the foolish spectacle of seeing Jack Holt simulate being dragged by a piece of doped-up candy.
Allison Pringle, who plays the native girl, is a personality of some interest and seems to get into her role very nicely. Her on-burial party is so good that it wins her sympathy, which she shouldn't have. Evelyn Selbie is rather compelling as the native mother, and Karl Brockie, Bartram Grassby and Frank Butler merit praise. The personality of Holt is, however, virtually lost in such a feature, even though he is supposed to be started.
Crisp as Director
Donald Crisp has been selected as director of "Ponjola," the Sam Rork production, which work will commence next Monday. This is the first feature that Mr. Crisp has directed here in several years. About last work he directed, in fact, locally, was acting the role of Battling Burrows in "Broken Blossom." Shortly after that he went to England to direct.
In the cast of "Ponjola" are James Kirkwood, Anna Q. Nilsson, Tully Marshall, Carmel Myers and Joseph Kilgore, among others.
Catlet in Pictures
Which reminds me that Herbert Cortell and Walter Catlett, who have been seen in the motion picture shows in times gone by, have just been signed by the Distinctive Pictures Corporation in the East. They are to appear in a feature with Alfred Lunt and Mimi Palmieri. Cortell was last seen on New York Broadway in "Tangerine" and Catlett was in the "Sally" company.
Juvenile Lead Busy
Ralph Faulkner, juvenile leading man, who has lately come out here from the East, has been assigned to a role in "The Harbor Bar," which the Associated Authors are making of the local studio. The principals in the production are Monte Blue and Evelyn Brent, and Mr. Elmer Price, opposite Jane Lowell. The story is by Peter B. Kyne.

Clune's Shows
Tom Meighan's "Ne'er Do Well"
Those who seek drama, comedy, thrills or action in their entertainment will find them all at Clune's this week, where Thomas Meighan in "The Ne'er Do Well," a dramatization of Rex Beach's novel, is the attraction.
The original locations of the story have been preserved in the picture version, as the entire company was transported to Panama, that the production would be realistic to the nth degree. Lila Lee as Chiquita, the Spanish senorita who defies the conventions of Panama, and marries the other man's heart; Gertrude Astor, John Milner, Gus Weinberg, Sid Smith, George O'Brien, Jules Cowles and Laurence Wheat, are the chief supporting players. A bill of short subjects accompanies the Broadway premiere of "The Ne'er Do Well."
LOYD THRILL FILM ENTERS THIRD WEEK
Harold Lloyd's seven-reel comedy, "Safety Last," opened on its third week at Miller's yesterday. "Safety Last" has been acclaimed as the greatest comedy thriller ever made. It is unusual both in construction and idea and Lloyd performs deeds of daring that would put the most hardened serial actor to shame. Mildred Davis, now Mrs. Harold Lloyd, is the leading lady, and others in the cast are Mickey Daniels, Anna Townsend, Noah Young, Westcott Clark and Bill Broderick. The reel and an animated cartoon complete the bill.

Another Unit Show Features Pantages Bill
In spite of the fact that no one knows exactly what it's all about, "The Whirl of the World," the second of the Pantages unit shows, which is providing most of the entertainment at the Seventh-and-Hill-street house this week, meets with a lot of popular approval.
Maybe this is because of the music and lyrics by William Friedlander and the book by Harlan Thompson, or maybe it's just on account of the fifty-odd members of the cast, most of whom are girls, young and fair.
At any rate, the production is a smart little revue, although it is a laugh whenever needed, and actually stops the show with a dance specialty of his in one of the thirteen scenes. They started to have a laugh whenever needed, and actually stops the show with a dance specialty of his in one of the thirteen scenes.

Three New One-Act Plays at Writers' Club
Three original one-act plays by screen writers, were presented in the play room of the Writers' Club last Saturday. They were "Moonlight," by Turner, "The Fort," by Elmer Price, and "Eve's Wishbone," by Edward. "Moonlight" proved to be a tragedy just a little too short to seem melodramatic. The best thing about it was the moonlight streaming in through French doors, giving that softening effect on hard lines, and making everything seem unreal and quietly beautiful. The interest hinged on physical movement rather than any development of an abstract theme as is the case with "The Fort," a fair-minded consideration of liberty (personal) has such extremely clever situations that one doesn't object at all to its being about half as "risque" as the Balzac novel. Robert, played by Vernon Steele, has some "ultra" ideas about un-conventionalities and liberty. He is not immoral, just unmoral and extraordinarily unromantic. His mother is too old fashioned to be tolerated until about the last 800 seconds, when she gives her son the shock of a lifetime. Kate Lester made this part wonderfully real. Irene Rich as Genevieve acted mostly with her eyes, her son even probably result. It is comedy, and its appeal lies chiefly in the theme of the story and subtleties of thought.
"Eve's Wishbone" is a one-act surprise play, with an interesting twist at the end. There was some excellent acting, with honors going especially to James Kyrie McCurdy, who took the part of the great motion picture director, Theodore Von Elitz played the assistant, while the "stranger from Peoria" was portrayed by James Morrison.
BURBANK OFFERING GOOD SUMMER SHOW
With Lee "Bud" Harrison in one of the funniest character parts he has portrayed for Burbank audiences in many days, "Summer Madness" proves an entertaining and cheerful as a seashore filled with a bevy of bathing beauties. The wardrobe as flashed by the chorus before bewildered audiences speaks the last word in elaborate musical comedy staging. The principals, including George Clark, Gene Darby, Grace Hutchinson, William McKee and others are given a line-up of musical specialties which they handle with cleverness.

Nerve Energy Based on Glands Says Physician

At a recent medical convention in Chicago, Dr. Roy Upham, President of the American Institute of Homopathy, stated that because of the intimate connection of the nervous system with the glands, many sufferers from nervous disorders were receiving remarkable benefits from glandular treatment. He further stated that this glandular treatment could be taken by mouth like any other medicine, and that an operation is not necessary.

The new scientific discovery—Glandogen—provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glandogen is prepared in convenient tablet form, and combines the important elements of the vital glands of healthy young animals, with other efficacious ingredients. It is prepared in two forms—one for men and one for women. Glandogen is obtainable at Blaney-Chambers Drug Co., 9th and Spring and 6th and Los Angeles; Chambers Drug Co., 1st and Broadway; Henderson-Chambers Drug Co., 3rd and Main. DECIDES TO BUY BULLARD BLOCK

Council Wants Building for Civic Center

Purchase Price of $288,000
Opposed by Two

Property Would Be Used as City Hall Site

The first step toward establishing the administrative civic center north of First street, as authorized by the voters the 5th inst., was taken yesterday, when by a vote of 7 for and 2 opposed, the City Council decided to purchase for $288,000, the Bullard Building at 154 North Spring street, adjoining the Temple Block, which has been owned by the city for many years.

The sites are separated by a street, but this will in all probability be vacated and the two parcels joined into one site, where the new City Hall may be located, unless a more advantageous location is found. The price offered paid will be taken from the $2,500,000 bond issue authorized at the recent election for the site of a new City Hall.

The Bullard Building was leased one year ago for five years by the City Council for the rental of $1,000 a year, and is being used as a City Hall annex, the playground, health, city prosecutor and other departments being located there. Under the lease, the city had a one-year option to purchase the building for $288,000, less the first year's rent, and this option expired on Friday.

Councilman Mallard introduced a resolution under which the city was to exercise the option, and this resolution was adopted. Councilman Allan and Langdon voting "no." Councilman Allan said that the city should purchase the Bullard Building, but held that the price was excessive, and said that if the council paid it, "Jesse James would hold his head in shame if he were alive and heard of the transaction." Councilman Allan said that the 1923 assessment figures gave an actual value to the Bullard Building and its site of $147,640. Councilman Langdon was in favor of obtaining an appraisal from the governing committee of the Realty Board before exercising the option.

Councilman Allan predicted that if the Bullard Building purchase was completed, an application would be made to the courts by taxpayers for an injunction to prevent the City Treasurer from paying the money.

Councilman Mallard and Wheeler said that the purchase was in the best interests of the city, as since the election, when the North End was designated for the location of the civic center, property values there had increased, and the new City Hall would assist in obtaining other land needed for civic center purposes at reasonable prices.

Evening Herald Plans to Build Huge New Plant

Announcement of the purchase of a site at the northwest corner of Pico and Figueroa streets on which the Los Angeles Evening Herald will erect a newspaper plant representing an investment of more than $1,000,000 was made yesterday by Dr. Frank P. Barham, president and publisher of the paper.

The property on which the plant will be located will be 153 feet on Pico street, 222 feet on Figueroa street and 271 feet on Figueroa street, the announcement stated. The site was bought from F. W. Bran.

Plans for the building, made by Architect Octavius Morgan, call for a mission type, two stories in height.

The building now occupying the site will be razed and work started at once on the new structure, it was stated.

Police Sergeant Testifies for Veronica

Philadelphia, Pa.—Police Sergeant Alfred Millington says that while he is opposed to writing testimonials in justice to Veronica and for the benefit of humanity, he feels it his duty to set his case before you with the hope that if you are troubled as he was you will give Veronica a fair trial.

"I was suffering from kidney trouble that had laid me up for six months at a time and I would swell considerably. I began the use of Veronica and found this swelling began to reduce rapidly, which somewhat alarmed me, and I sought the advice of my physician, and when I told him what I was taking, he said, continue with the water. This I did, and today am a well man, have no trouble of any kind. I give Veronica Water the entire credit of my cure, as I took no other medicine from the time I commenced its use. I have recommended it to a number of the men in our station house who have been equally benefited by its use."—Alfred Millington, Sergeant, 4th District Police, Philadelphia, Pa.

Veronica Water is a natural mineral water pure and undiluted just as it comes from the springs. It is sold by Drug Stores everywhere. A big generous 1½ qt. bottle for sixty-five cents. If your druggist does not have it in stock send his name to Veronica Springs Company, Santa Barbara, Calif., and arrangements will be made for you to obtain Veronica Water through him. —[Advertisement.]

SHIP SAILING INCREASE IS ISLAND PLAN

Honolulu Chamber to Use Influence in Promoting Trade With Los Angeles

Plans of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce to exercise its influence to obtain a doubling of the number of steamer sailings between Los Angeles and the island, were related last night by O. Danielson, secretary and treasurer of the Milton G. Cooper Dry Goods Company, at a dinner of the company's heads of departments at the Elit. The dinner was given as an informal welcome home of Mr. Danielson, who has been on a business trip to Honolulu, and to J. H. Bernstein, one of the company's chief buyers, who has just returned from a trip through England, Ireland and Europe.

After several business discussions with officers of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Danielson expressed the opinion that once the Los Angeles obtains a doubling of its ship service between Honolulu and this port, the matter of getting business will be comparatively easy. In fact, he said that the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce asserted it would much rather have service between Los Angeles than between any other Pacific Coast port.

Mr. Bernstein reported having established purchasing agencies in Paris, London, Belfast, Berlin, Hamburg, Nuremberg, Sonneberg and Chemnitz. Large quantities of goods purchased in those places will be shipped direct to Los Angeles Harbor, as will all foreign purchases in the future.

Milton G. Cooper, president of the company, was chairman and toastmaster.

FEAR KEEPS WIFE FROM TESTIFYING

Lawyer Says Threat to Kill Prevented Woman From Entering Courtroom

When the divorce suit of Maria Espinoza against Jose Espinoza was called yesterday by Judge Summerfield in Superior Court, the plaintiff was not present.

Instead her attorney, Mrs. Jean Shontz, appeared. Explaining the absence of her client Mrs. Shontz said: "If your honor will read one of the allegations of the plaintiff you will find that the defendant, Jose Espinoza, is charged with having threatened to kill his wife if she started divorce action."

"Is that why she is not in court?" asked Judge Summerfield. "Is she afraid to appear?"

The attorney said it was.

Espinoza in court to contest the action, denied threatening his wife. He declared that he and his wife lived in the same house and that once the Los Angeles obtained a doubling of its ship service between Honolulu and this port, the matter of getting business will be comparatively easy. In fact, he said that the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce asserted it would much rather have service between Los Angeles than between any other Pacific Coast port.

The couple were married in April, 1918. Espinoza is a truck driver and is worth $7000. The husband is represented by Attorney Haines.

The findings of Commissioner Bogardus and Chief Engineer Lorentz from their study of traffic conditions in the larger cities of the East are to be incorporated in a comprehensive report which will be issued soon, it was announced yesterday at the meeting of the Board of Public Utilities.

In their report they are expected to make a number of important suggestions for the adoption of some of the methods in use in the large eastern centers.

The board also ordered the Pacific Electric to place wire signals along intersections on its Hollywood Boulevard line for the protection of motorists and pedestrians. The Pacific Electric also was ordered to instruct its motormen not to exceed a rate of twelve miles an hour in traveling on Highland avenue in Hollywood.

Four hotels and five camps are located in the park at present, he said. Many of the camp helpers and hotel workers who are going to Yellowstone for the summer season are college students, who will work there during their vacations.

Maricopa Fire Hero's Identity Is Discovered

BAKERSFIELD, June 11.—Arnold Patterson has been discovered as the hero of the Maricopa fire. In the disastrous blaze which recently threatened to wipe out the entire business district of the west side oil town, Patterson, employed on the Crescent Petroleum property, of which his father is superintendent, single-handed saved the entire lease from destruction. Working with chemicals and hose on the tops of camp buildings, where the heat was almost too intense to bear, he succeeded in diverting the flames from the property of the company.

When an acetylene tank in a blacksmith shop across the street exploded, he was blown from the roof and was rendered unconscious. This did not discourage him, however, and when consciousness returned he climbed to his post again and remained there until all danger was past.

KERN GRAND JURY SEEKS BUDGET CUT

Radical Paring of County Expenses Recommended to Save Taxpayers' Money

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

Bakersfield, June 11.—Recommendations for radical cuts in county expenses are embodied in a partial report of the Kern county grand jury, issued today. This body asked that a substantial reduction be made in county library expenditures, $75,000 having been appropriated for the present fiscal year of which sum $20,000 is paid annually for the salaries of the thirteen persons employed in this department. The jury recommended that the number of assistants be reduced to a minimum.

The abolishment of the Nineteenth Judicial district, which embraces the Kern, River and Delta, is asked by the jury, a recommendation which would effect a yearly saving of $121,000.

The jury further asks that the Chamber of Commerce appropriations be reduced by the board of supervisors for this year.

The grand jury finds the amount spent in maintaining the detention home excessive and asks that an investigation be made with a view of effecting a material reduction. The jury states that $1000 monthly is being spent to maintain an average of from eight to ten inmates, and there are only seven at the home now. A general recommendation is made that "every high school board, every city board of education, and the trustees of every school district, make a effort to reduce their expenditures to the lowest point possible, consistent with providing the children of their respective districts with the training in the substantial that is necessary for them to have to become good, intelligent citizens."

The jury also has recommended that the county auditor be authorized to make a study of the county's financial condition and to report thereon to the board of supervisors at the next session.

The jury also has recommended that the county auditor be authorized to make a study of the county's financial condition and to report thereon to the board of supervisors at the next session.

Sheriff Seizes Stills in Raids Around Moreno

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

Riverside, June 11.—Sheriff Ryan, accompanied by Deputy Sheriffs Richardson, Scott and Thompson, this afternoon seized two stills and two men, W. R. Thompson, negro, and Jim Wilson, white, south of Moreno. Thompson refused to be arrested at first, but later came along. Wilson was not brought to jail, as he was needed at home with his growing crops, and it was not apparent that he had an active part in using the stills.

In the case of the stills, a ten-gallon affair, was found about a mile from Thompson's house and destroyed. The other, holding twenty gallons, was found in a reservoir near Thompson's house and brought to the Sheriff's office. About seven barrels of mash and five gallons of alcohol were seized.

Evidence showed that four men, all well known here, had beat Rath out of money in gambling. James Leggett testified to winning money from Rath, as did also Joe Shaw, employee of a local laundry, Milton Shaw, who, Rath states, with his partner, Joe Vasquez, got most of the $6000, refused to testify.

Sheriff Himes, Probation Officer Goodrich and Dist. Atty. McKay recommended that probation be granted. Representatives of the Southern California Edison Company informed the District Attorney that they were not opposed to parole being granted.

Judge Short granted Rath probation for five years.

As an aftermath of the probation proceedings Milton Shaw this afternoon was arrested on a commitment issued by the District Attorney and is now serving a six months' term in the County Jail. He was found guilty last February on a charge of gambling but the commitment was withheld on the promise that he would not gamble.

"Do You Carry Credit Insurance?"

Your Banker May Ask You This Question!

A well-known bank of New York City writes the American Credit-Indemnity Co. as follows:

"No doubt you will be interested to learn that we arranged to incorporate into the forms used for securing financial statements this query: Are your accounts covered by credit insurance?"

Many other banks in all parts of the country have told us the same thing. Every Manufacturer and Wholesaler should be able to guarantee to his banker that he will not have unforeseen credit losses. That his accounts are absolutely good. You can do this, if you "Americanize Your Credits."

NEW YORK CURB

Indefinite Trading
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, June 11.—Bond prices moved within narrow limits and apparently without definite trend on today's curb market. Dealings were on a moderate scale, with most interest centered in the industrial group.

Motor shares, while fairly active, showed little net change on the day. Durable stock fractionally lower. American Locomotive, new stock, opened up on early sale, but closed slightly lower.

Oil shares moved irregularly in light trading. Standard Oil shares were steady in curb trading.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Dullness marked the trading again, yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, the only development of interest centering on the abrupt decline of 9 cents in Holly Development, which took the final price down to 1.51. Mining stocks were without attraction to traders, but bonds were well bought.

In the oil group, General Petroleum common was unchanged at 34 1/2 and Union Oil Associates acted similarly at 4 1/2. United States Royalties sold at 5 1/2. Gold Dust was taken at 15 cents, and Simon Silver went at 21, both unchanged from the previous session. Yellow Dog ascended 1 cent to 51, and Outman United was quoted at 8 cents.

The public utilities were in demand by bond traders. San Joaquin Light and Power series "C" of 1929 sold around 9 1/2 at the close, and Pacific Gas and Electric 7s of 1940 were quoted at 107 1/2, with sales at that price.

James J. Hill

and his agricultural experts believed that the Okanogan Valley offered the greatest advantages for diversified farming on the Great Northern line, and proved it. Jim Hill backed his faith with his own money. He bought all the bonds issued by the West Okanogan Valley Municipal Irrigation District. Jim Hill fathered the district. The Great Northern colonized it. Oroville and Tonasket are flourishing towns in the center of the district. Alfalfa and apples are produced in huge quantities. The success of dairying and diversified farming is evidenced by modern homes, fine farm buildings, excellent schools and the State Highway running the full length of the valley.

The production wealth behind these bonds offers you the best of security and 6% for the next ten to thirty-five years, free from any deduction for Federal income tax. These bonds are the direct tax obligations of 12,000 acres of the finest lands in the State of Washington. There are 567 land owners in the district, with average irrigable holdings of 17.38 acres.

The taxes from which principal and the interest of these bonds are paid run ahead of every character of private lien and mortgage, including mortgages securing Joint Stock and Federal Land Bank bonds, which are now selling at prices to yield 4.60% to 4.70%.

El Pueblo

UNDER Spanish rule, a pueblo or town was established September 4, 1781, just north of the present plaza in Los Angeles.

The first settlers were brought from Mexico. There were 11 families. Of the men, there were 2 Spaniards, 2 negroes, 4 Indians, 2 mulattoes and 1 Spanish-Indian halfbreed. Six of the women were mulattoes and 5 were Indians. Including children, the entire colony numbered 46 persons.

The new settlement received the name of El Pueblo de Nuestra Señora la Reina de los Angeles—the City of Our Lady, the Queen of the Angels.

Very soon the settlers constructed a ditch to conduct water from the river for the domestic and irrigation needs of the community. This was the first public utility service in Los Angeles.

It was not until 1867, after Los Angeles had become American in population and character, that the refinements of gas service were introduced by the Los Angeles Gas Company; and electric service was first provided in 1882 by The Los Angeles Electric Company, another predecessor of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation.

A few light mediums ranged from 8.50; while heavy commons made 6.25.

Sheep—Not much dull trading and almost weak to slightly lower. Bulk of cows averaged 100 to 1200 pounds and ranged from 8.25 to 8.50. Few mediums made 4.75 to 5.00, while commons in small lots sold at 4.50 and 4.60. Few butchering bulls made 2.75 and 4.00, while bolognas ranged from 3.25.

Hogs—Very active trading, which closed to the south of fairly liberal receipts. The market was unevenly lower. Bulk of offerings were good to 150-pound killers and ranged from 8.75 to 8.85, while a top of 9.00 was made on four loads of good killers. A few heavy killers out of main lots brought 8.50 to 8.75, while light 100-pound killers sold for 7.25.

Sheep and lambs—Steady. A part of the good 70-pound steers ranged from 9.50, while the good ones were averaging 11 pounds each for 5.50.
